Yugoslavs Reject Anglo-American Decision To Quit Trieste

Oppose Move To Let Italy Occupy City

Washington (AP) — The United States and Great Britain said yesterday they intend to allow Italy to occupy the city of Trieste, and surrounding Zone A of the disputed territory, a decision which the Yugoslav government declared bitterly it will refuse to accept.

In announcing the imminent withdrawal of Anglo-American occupation forces, the State Department expressed hope the move would lead to "a final peaceful solution" of the long quarrel between Italy and Yuogslavia over the Free Territory of Trieste.

Its immediate result, however, was serious rioting in Belgrade. Yugoslavs poured into the streets by the thousands, shouting "We will give up our lives, but not Trieste!"

The American, British and Italian embassies were stoned and many windows broken. An American Marine was slightly injured in the rioting.

Official Italy, on the other hand, hailed the impending transfer of authority with jubilation. Yugoslavia now occupies Zone B of the disputed territory, while the British and Americans administer Zone A, which includes the city of Trieste.

Yugoslavia's stand in the face of the new developments was broadcast by Vice President Edvard Kardelj, who said "We cannot leave to the mercy of the Italians tens of thousands of Slovenes still living in Trieste."

Kardelj said the Anglo-American move would be appealed to the United Nations, and it was reported that Yugoslavia would file formal protests with the Western powers before the day is out.

State Department officials here expressed concern over the violent Yugoslav reaction. But they indicated that neither Yugoslav nor Italian protests would cause Britain and the United States to change their minds.

"It is the firm belief of the two governments," the State Department said, "that this step will contribute to the stabilization of a situation which has disturbed Italo-Yugoslav relations in recent years."

Authoritative Western sources in Rome added that the move was an effort to equalize Italy's position in Zone A with Yugoslavia's in Zone B so that the two countries could begin direct negotiations for a settlement.

Kardelj, in his radio speech, said it would not contribute to improvement of Yugoslav-Italian relations, but to the contrary would provoke new Italian claims.

The Anglo-American decision will give Italy, temporarily at least, the biggest slice of the melon—the city of Trieste itself and its Adriatic port facilities.

Both Italy and Yugoslavia claim the whole Free Territory of Trieste, an area of 320 square miles created by the Big Four foreign ministers as part of the Italian Peace Treaty in 1947.

At present some 4,000 American and 3,000 British troops garrison Zone A. They will be withdrawn and replaced with Italian troops "at the earliest practicable date," the State Department said.

Says Russia Capable Of Attacking U. S.

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower said yesterday Soviet Russia now has "the capability of atomic attack on us" and commands "a weapon or the forerunner of a weapon of power far in excess of the conventional types."

The President made the statement at his news conference in an effort to clarify seemingly conflicting statements by various officials on the potentialities of Soviet atom bomb and hydrogen bomb developments.

Eisenhower also announced that he has asked all members of his administration "to refrain from comment on Soviet nuclear capabilities unless they first check their statements with the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission."

As for this country's strength, Eisenhower gave assurance that the arsenal of U.S. atomic weapons is "large and increasing steadily."

The President's statement—both as to Soviet H-Bomb progress and silencing official tongues—drew mixed comment from members of Congress.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass) said Congress "must not be stampeded into spending vast sums" for national defense in the light of the new analysis of Soviet weapons.

"That's another way to ruin, too," Martin said. "It could wreck the fiscal situation of the country. We must keep our perspective and not get too excited until we have all the facts."

Asked whether Eisenhower's statement might change the tax picture when Congress returns in January, Martin told newsmen:

"Security, of course, comes first. But for anything I know, we can have security and still fulfill our promise for expiration of the excess profits tax and reduction of the individual income tax next January."

Eisenhower did not predict bigger defense outlays. The administration will try to find ways, he said, of adjusting the nation's defenses to the new kind of threat; therefore, there will not necessarily be an increase in the gross sums requested—there might be shifts in priorities of the programs on which the money is spent.

FBI Reports Discrepancies In Hall's Kidnaping Story, Hinting Marsh Not Involved

Kansas City (AP) — The government geared last night for a nationwide hunt for mystery man Thomas Marsh in the Bobby Greenlease kidnap-slaying but delayed final action.

Official explanation was that although Marsh has been formally charged with murder of the 6-year-old child at St. Joseph, Mo., the FBI has not resolved discrepancies in statements by Carl Austin Hall.

Hall, 34, is the confessed mastermind of the $600,000 ransom plot that led to death for the little son of multi-millionaire Robert C. Greenlease and to capture of Hall and a woman companion, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41.

Serious doubt was expressed by some authorities that Hall and Mrs. Heady had an accomplice.

But the FBI in Kansas City late yesterday filed information with U. S. Commissioner Charles A. Thompson that Marsh has fled across state lines to avoid prosecution on the Missouri murder charge and Thompson issued a warrant for Marsh's arrest.

In Washington, the FBI emphasized that despite this action, it is holding up the usual nationwide alert for such a fugitive.

Hall blamed Marsh for Bobby's death. But the question the FBI wants answered apparently are: Did Hall invent the story of Marsh's alleged participating in the kidnap-killing, or did Marsh actually have some hand in it, and possibly—is Marsh now dead?

In view of these circumstances, the FBI said it is not advising local police authorities throughout the nation of the federal complaint filed against Marsh, nor is it issuing at this time the coast-to-coast "wanted" circulars which usually accompany a nationwide manhunt.

The unlawful flight complaint filed here, however, lays the groundwork for a national search, if subsequent developments warrant this.

Hall and Mrs. Heady are held in St. Louis on $100,000 bonds on federal charges of extortion, but the government said today it would turn them over to Missouri authorities for prosecution, either for murder at St. Joseph or for kidnaping at Kansas City. Both cities are seeking their custody.

Death in the gas chamber is a maximum penalty under Missouri law for either crime.

The government added another link in the case by putting the finger on Mrs. Heady as a principal in collecting the fabulous ransom.

The FBI said it had found the woman's fingerprints on ransom extortion papers, showing that she had handled them.

Hall has insisted Mrs. Heady was duped into taking part in the abduction, contending she was unaware of it at the start.

Even as the Hall story came under close scrutiny, Atty. Gen. Brownell announced at Washington the couple would be turned over to the state for prosecution.

Charges of extortion have been filed by federal authorities. The state has filed first degree murder charges at St. Joseph, Mo., where the boy's body was unearthed from a shallow grave. State kidnaping charges are pending here against the couple.

Brownell's announcement indicates the FBI has failed to establish the abductors crossed any state lines. Extortion carries only a maximum sentence of 20 years imprisonment, a $5,000 fine or both.

Bobby's body was dug from a lime-filled grave in the backyard of Mrs. Heady's home in St. Joseph Wednesday.

Explanations To Prisoners Start Monday

Panmunjom, Friday, (AP)—The U. N. Command said today a building speed-up may make it possible to start "explanations" to balky prisoners of war on Monday.

Brig. Gen. A. L. Hamblen, Allied commander for prisoner affairs, wrote the Neutral Nations Repatriations Commission that the Allies with the help of India guard troops can cut from seven to five days, the time required for building a temporary shelter in which Communists will give their "explanations" to 22,500 Chinese and North Korean POWs refusing to go home.

The commission yesterday indirectly accused the U. N. Command of stalling Red explanation efforts. It asked the command to build an explanation center within four days or let the Communists do it. Hamblen turned down that proposal, and also an offer of Communist help.

But Hamblen did agree to put construction work on the temporary shelter on a 24-hour basis and accepted "your kind offer of assistance from troops of the Indian custodial force" which guards the POWs in the neutral zone.

Marsh Believed Seen In Ohio

Wheeling, W. Va., (AP)—All available state troopers in the Northern Panhandle were pressed into service yesterday after police received a tip that a man answering the description of Thomas John Marsh was seen in Ohio.

Marsh, 37, is wanted in the kidnaping slaying of Bobby Greenlease.

Mrs. Earl Coffield, a clerk in a grocery store near St. Clairsville, Ohio, 13 miles west of here, told St. Clairsville Traffic Officer Tom Minder a man resembling Marsh stopped in her store at about 10:30 a. m.

She said he was traveling with an auburn haired woman in a light gray car bearing Missouri license plates.

J. P. Mitchell To Succeed Martin Durkin

The former New York City department store executive will take his oath of office this morning in Eisenhower's office and then attend his first Cabinet meeting.

Eisenhower told his news conference that Mitchell is a man of extraordinary ability and great character with long experience in labor relations problems. His home is in Spring Lake, N. J.

Mitchell's selection was greeted with varying comment. Some Democrats and union leaders expressed disappointment that a man from union ranks was not chosen. But the appointment was generally hailed as a good one, even by CIO President Walter Reuther.

Mitchell, an assistant secretary of the Army with a decade of experience in government jobs, declined for the present to express any opinions on the hot Taft-Hartley law controversy. He told reporters he intends to do "the best possible job for the people of the United States."

Mitchell will succeed Martin P. Durkin, Democrat and president of the AFL Plumbers Union, who quit Sept. 10 with a charge that the White House reneged on an agreement to recommend to Congress a series of amendments to the T-H law, many of them favorable to unions.

Besides announcing Mitchell's appointment, Eisenhower accepted the resignation of Lloyd A. Mashburn, who served as labor undersecretary under Durkin. Mashburn said he wanted to leave the government to become assistant general president of the AFL Lathers Union.

This leaves the Labor Department virtually stripped of union men in top jobs. The sole exception is Assistant Secretary Harrison Hobart, who was assistant grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, a union affiliated with neither the AFL nor CIO.

There was no immediate comment on Mitchell's appointment from AFL President George Meany. But Al Hayes, an AFL vice president and head of the AFL Machinists Union, called the selection "incredible." This was the same adjective the late Sen. Taft of Ohio used to describe Durkin's appointment last winter.

Mitchell, a Catholic, served as industrial relations director for Macy's department store, and later as vice president in charge of labor relations for Bloomingdale's, another large New York City department store.

Mitchell told reporters he never was a labor union member but had been dealing in labor relations on and off since 1932. He said he had dealt with many top labor leaders through the years and thought he got along with them "very well."

Eden Reveals West Plans New Peace Bid To Russia

Margate, England, (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said yesterday the West plans a new approach to Russia for world peace based on guarantees against aggression.

"I think something can be worked out," Eden told a Conservative party conference here.

He also offered Russia Big Four talks on any level in the hope of easing the cold war stalemate.

He suggested that Britons keep clearly in mind that Russia's negative attitude rather than American policies have blocked the way to big power talks.

Returning to the direction of British foreign affairs after an illness, and enforced absence since April, Eden made this significant reference to the West's diplomatic plans:

"Our policy has not changed. I am glad to restate it here. Our first aim is to maintain the unity and strength of the Western alliance, which have been mainly responsible for any softening there may have been in Soviet intransigence.

"Secondly, we are determined to keep our alliance defensive in character, to indulge in no provocation and to take advantage of any and every opportunity which may arise for settling difficulties and solving disputes."

Man Linked To Killings On Turnpike

Cleveland, (AP)—Cleveland police issued a two-state pickup alarm yesterday for a 25-year-old man wanted for questioning in the recent Pennsylvania Turnpike shootings.

Homicide Capt. David E. Kerr identified the man as John Wesley Wable, who was freed last March from his job in an east side electrical plant here. He said Wable had not been charged, but warned he might be "armed and dangerous."

Two men were killed in the turnpike shootings and a third was wounded. All three shootings occurred last July.

The pickup order to Ohio and Pennsylvania police went out after police had questioned a 22-year-old blonde they said was Wable's girl friend. Kerr said the girl, later released, linked Wable to a gun turned over to police by her stepfather, and to a pocket watch found in a pawn shop.

The watch fitted the description of one taken from the clothing of truck driver John K. Shepard, shot and seriously wounded July 31 near Lisbon, Ohio. And the gun, a .765 German-made revolver, was similar to one used in the turnpike slayings, Kerr said.

Group Of B-36s Fly To Morocco

Casablanca, French Morocco, (AP)—A group of the U.S. Air Force's huge B-36 strategic bombers arrived at the U.S. Air Force base at Nouaceur in Morocco yesterday after a flight from Fort Worth, Tex. The flight, led by Col. George T. Cadwell, commander of the 7th Bomber Wing, will return to Fort Worth in 10 days.

Hundreds View Fire Exercise

Hundreds of residents lined Ann St., and crowded Fifth St. bridge in Stroudsburg last night to watch tons of water cascade from Stroudsburg Fire Co. hoses.

It was part of the fire department's Fire Prevention Week demonstration.

Ann St. was blocked off throughout the demonstration, which lasted from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

All types of streams used in fire-fighting were demonstrated. There were fog blankets, heavy streams from the 2.5-inch lines and light ones from the one-inch hoses.

The climax of the demonstration was operation of a hose line from the old steamer.

Operating the steamer were Fred Miller and Henry Russell. Handling the nozzle were Levi Marsh, former member of Phoenix Co. who retired after 39 years service, and Elmer (Shad) Walton, charter member of Chemical Co. and now its president.

Dewey Moves To Clean Up Racing Scandal

New York, (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey moved yesterday to clean up scandals in New York's 250 million dollar a year harness racing operations by appointing an investigating commission to "turn harness racing upside down."

The three-man commission is charged primarily with probing into stock ownership and other financial interests of every trotting association in the state.

Dewey said the commissioners will try to learn whether any public officials obtained stock free or at "inadequate" prices and whether gangsters hold any financial interest in the associations.

They will study hiring practices and the possibility of kickbacks, extortion and coercion being involved.

Truman Raps Ike Policies

St. Louis, (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman last night expressed concern over the Eisenhower administration's policies toward counteracting a depression.

Here to receive the $1,000 annual Sidney Hillman Foundation Public Service Award, Truman said in a speech at a dinner in his honor the "Old Guard of reactionaries" has gained new strength and is striving mightily to overturn many constructive achievements of recent years.

"We should resist their efforts with all our might," he said, "because our country today is too strong, too full of opportunity and hope, to let it be ruined by a set of dismal blockheads who want to return to the days of McKinley."

Truman said he doesn't think such an attitude will prevail and that he is much more worried about those in government who want to "stand still."

U.S. Presses Reds To Act

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The United States called on Communist China and North Korea yesterday to say quickly whether they intend to take part in a Korean peace conference and when they will be ready.

"Our side is prepared to negotiate in all reasonableness and good faith," a U.S. note said. "If your side has any intention of carrying out the recommendation contained in the armistice agreement and to participate in a Korean political conference looking toward a peaceful settlement of the Korean question and the withdrawal of foreign forces from Korea, etc., there can be no reason for your side to refuse to get on with the conference."

The United States concluded with a request that the Reds give an early answer. The Reds ignored three previous notes from the U.S. trying to get the conference on the way before the Oct. 28 deadline recommended in the Korean armistice agreement.

Yesterday's note informed the Reds officially that the U.N. Assembly resolution of Aug. 28 limiting the peace conference to the belligerents, plus Russia if invited by the Communists, stands without change despite efforts to overturn it.

Americans Are Consciously Searching For Solutions

by Stanley High

(A senior editor of the Reader's Digest, Mr. High was on President Eisenhower's staff during the 1952 campaign. He has written numerous books.)

The fact that so much of the news about ourselves and America is on the unhealthy side proves, among other things the limitations of journalism.

Things no doubt are as bad as the papers tell us.

Patriotism generally is in disrepute, as something identical with Chauvinism. Moral standards have been widely reduced to the level of the lowest common denominator of conduct.

Mental health has become the nation's biggest health problem; psychiatrists its busiest doctors. Alcoholism, a disease of escape, is probably our biggest social problem. Next perhaps is juvenile delinquency and after that divorce—both most often due to one kind or another of instability.

"Everybody," says a news magazine, "is creating." A Senate committee recently made a full-scale inquiry into the state of public morals and came up with a proposal for a national code of conduct—since being visibly repelled by the ancient codes, it is presumed that we would find something modern in that line more attractive.

All these things, in one way or another, we are daily told.

But there are some things the papers don't tell: Not with the same spread and gusto. One of those things is that, in a mess though we are, we don't like it. A second is that, although individually we can't do much about

Delegates also voted to oppose Sunday motion pictures.

Approximately 400 delegates attended the convention.

Archers Open Deer Season Monday

State Issues Permits To Over 8,000

Harrisburg, (AP)—More than 8,000 permits have been issued for the special bow-and-arrow deer hunting season which opens Monday morning in Pennsylvania, a spokesman for the Department of Revenue said yesterday.

Many women and teenagers were among those who applied for permission to join in the two-week hunt which ends Saturday, Oct. 24, department records showed.

Approximately 8,500 special permits were issued last year. The total number of permits sold this year is expected to top that mark, according to the department spokesman.

The permits cost $2 in addition to $3.15 which must be paid for a regular hunting license. Hunting will be permitted each day between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. except Sunday, Oct. 18.

The archer's hunt is the first of three scheduled for this fall. The second is the regular two-week buck season, Nov. 30-Dec. 12.

There will be a special antlerless season Dec. 14-15.

Thomas A. Forbes, Camp Hill, a member of the Pennsylvania Archery Association, attributed the expected increase in bow-and-arrow deer hunters to "education."

"The association has succeeded in enlightening the public to the benefits of archery from the standpoint of a good, clean sport," he said.

Legal game for the special season includes male deer with two or more points to one antler and deer with antlers three or more inches long even though they have no points.

He went to East Stroudsburg, celebrated his release, got arrested for drunkenness.

Turned loose, Kelly went to Stroudsburg and celebrated. He was arrested for drunkenness.

Burgess Hal H. Harris sentenced Kelley to 30 days in jail.

Yesterday he was serving the sentence.

Denny Urges Firm Dealings With Russians

America's most famous open-forum moderator, George V. Denny, urged this nation to be firm in its dealings with Russia and return to a faith in God last night.

Addressing members of Dutch Treat Club in the Penn-Stroud Hotel, Denny, who has been moderator of "America's Town Meeting of the Air" for years, said a "turn again to God . . . was the only hope we (America) has."

Denny, who told his audience he had been "sitting behind some of the greatest brains in the world . . . for 25 years . . .", said present Russian tactics were of a "divide and conquer" nature.

The Russians, he said, "will use the United Nations as a means of getting Western European nations to vote with them for the admission of Communist China to the UN. This would align those nations with Russia."

If, as a result of such an action (which the U. S. would veto), the U. S. should follow action proposed by Sen. William Knowland, Calif., Senate majority leader, and "pull out of the UN" the result would be to put America "in a bad light as poor sportsmen" to the rest of the world, Denny said.

In response to a question from the floor ("Why do you think Great Britain is so intent on recognizing Red China?" Denny said: "I can answer that in one word—trade."

At another point Denny was asked his view on the recent agreement between Franco Spain and the U. S. permitting building of U. S. air fields in that nation. Wasn't Spain a totalitarian government, the questioner wanted to know.

"Yes," said Denny, it was. "But it doesn't threaten us."

Denny said he was "astonished" that a Democratic candidate for the presidency should "come back (from a world tour) and ask us to reach agreement with these people (the Russians) . . . because their agreements" are meaningless. He referred to Adlai Stevenson.

The speaker also said that America should "think" about all questions before it on the international level and should use every method short of "preventive war" to reach a solution.

Resignation of Jacob C. Wachtman, Stokes Mill Road, as executive secretary of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce and the Vacation Bureau was reported last night.

Spot checks with several members of both organizations indicated that the report was true.

Members of the Vacation Bureau contacted by The Daily Record said they had received Mr. Wachtman's letter of resignation.

Dale H. Learn, Chamber president, told a reporter "I have received the letter of resignation."

Learn said he did not believe he "should make a statement" at the present time.

Mr. Learn said necessary action on Wachtman's letter of resignation would be taken by a "meeting of the executive committee of the Chamber at its next meeting" early next week.

Wachtman has served in the executive secretary position more than a year and a half. He succeeded William V. Nixon who resigned to accept a position as assistant to the president of Muhlenberg College in Allentown.

Turnpike Speed

The Pennsylvania Turnpike has hung up another speed record.

Not the kind the safety council people are worried about, but the kind that makes the members of the turnpike commission sit back and smile, and start planning for an even better roadway and more extensions.

For the bumper earnings of the "dream highway" have so exceeded the estimates that the bond redemption program is seven years ahead of schedule, and with a record gross revenue of more than $21 million for the fiscal year ending last May 31, Chairman T. J. Evans is confident the commission will meet all road/building debts by 1961.

This history of the turnpike revenues is commensurate with that of the New Jersey Turnpike, which discovered in the first year of operation that its traffic and thus its revenue was many years ahead of the predictions.

Since the Pennsylvania Turnpike opened in 1940 more than 50 millions of vehicles have paid tolls as they traveled over the wonderful highway, the total revenue exceeding $85 million.

Certainly these figures refute the contention of so many critics who saw no good in a return to the toll road system, for not only did Pennsylvania show the way in this state but indicated a path now being followed by many other states.

As we have said many times, Pennsylvania is proud of its turnpike, even as it recognizes certain faults and deficiencies in it. And Pennsylvania is proud to learn that the record revenue from toll collections will encourage further extensions to all sections of the state, extensions which will obviously pay for themselves.

Dock Walkout Ends

The week-long strike of dock workers on the East Coast waterfronts is over, thanks to President Eisenhower's prompt invoking of the Taft-Hartley Law injunction provisions, and it must be presumed that next week a permanent injunction will be granted thus extending the "cooling-off" period to the full 80 days.

Just how many millions of dollars have been lost in every phase of American industry cannot be established, but certainly the loss for even such a short period of the strike which began last Wednesday is not inconsiderable, to say nothing of the inconveniences suffered by so many.

It is, in a sense, ironic that the Communist-infested International Longshoremen's Association which has just been expelled from the American Federation of Labor should have been the union to call this strike. An orphaned outfit, it will fight tooth and nail to maintain its position in the face of the AFL avowed intention to organize a substitute union to take its place.

There must be many workers in the discredited ILA who have had more than enough of the lawless operation of that organization by hoodlums who consider themselves above the law and whose only interest in leadership is self-enrichment.

We hope to see a new, Communist-free organization arise at dockside where shipping essential to our well-being, in truth, to the very existence of our nation is handled daily.

It is up to the states of New York and New Jersey especially, as well as the federal government, to take such firm steps as will remove the cancerous growth eating away at the very foundations of the shipping along our busy coast.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

DESCENT BY BATHYSPHERE

Frisby Fozzle, our special correspondent with the Piccards in their world-breaking descent into the oceanic depths, sends us stirring details of the event in the Tyrrhenian Sea. "We found no trace of the New York Giants, the balanced budget, any Soviet record of trustworthiness, Henry Wallace or the dollar urging thrift. Boy, are we getting results!

Jacques: Look out the starboard side, dad! . . . I see what seems like an old-fashioned linen restaurant napkin, a nickel cigar, a cocktail glass big enough to be seen by the naked eye and a kept pledge to cut taxes.

Professor: We're certainly down almost two miles then.

Jacques: Any sign of a fifty-cent world series bleacher ticket, the allied list of aims in the last world war or a free-lunch counter, popper?

Professor: Boy, when we get down that deep we'll be really performing!

"Porterhouse" won the recent $117,500 Futurity . . . That's about the right sum in connection with a good meat order these days . . . "Fisherman," one of the favorites, was ninth . . . Probably just before he hit the stretch somebody yelled, "Hey, they're biting back here!" . . . "I visited him because a friend of mine asked me if I wanted to say hello and I said sure. I would do that for anybody." Mayor Kenny of Jersey City in explaining his prison visit to a convicted extortionist . . . It was one of those hello days when he felt especially hello-like, no doubt . . . Lucille Ball and "I Love Lucy" are back of TV and Lucille is reported so nervous about signing anything that she won't even sign a sign-off . . . Joe Fay, transferred from Sing Sing to Dannemora, is going to find it hard getting used to a new business headquarters . . . (May have to run things through a subsidiary prison.) . . . Judge Carroll C. Hincks, just named to the U. S. Court of Appeals, is a Massachusetts boy who went to Yale, stayed there after his graduation, and has been there ever since . . . Can anybody really be as pleased with his own efforts as Jackie Gleason seems to be on TV? . . . Danbury hatters are in a novel strike . . . This one is to compel a boss to sign a contract never to move his plant anywhere under any circumstances . . . How mad can a mad hatter get? . . . Do workers sign contracts never to move under any circumstances? . . . Alistair Cooke has returned to TV and nonchalance may be said to be itself again . . . The latest crack about Alistair is that he once so far forgot himself as to register enthusiasm.

"How many more descents will Professor Piccard make?" we asked.

"He will never yield until he has gone deep enough to find a trace of the 35-cent shrimp cocktail, the 25-cent haircut and a bill for $2 from a doctor for a house visit," declared Mr. Fozzle, who gave a stenographic report of the dialogue between Professor Piccard and his son Jacques during the Bathysphere trip:

Jacque: How deep are we now, father?

Professor: We must be down pretty far. I have just seen a genuine full-quart bottle, an old fashioned glass bearing the inscription "The Largest Glass of Beer In Town for Five Cents," and floating past at this moment is what seems to be a dollar watch.

Jacques: Any trace of a unbroken international treaty?

Professor: Not so fast, my boy! We are not down that deep yet.

Jacques: I think I just saw a derby hat, a celluloid collar, a clay pipe, a mustache cup and an old newspaper bearing an advertisement reading, "For Sale: Eight-room House, $5,200, easy terms."

Professor: If you did we are down deeper than I anticipated. I must warn you that a depth of a mile, one is apt to have hallucinations.

Jacques (after an interval): How deep are we now?

Robert S. Allen Reports

Stassen Has Inside Track For Secretary Of Labor

Washington — Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen has the inside track to be the new Secretary of Labor.

Authority for that is President Eisenhower himself.

He said it personally to Stassen.

The occasion was a private talk in which the President informed Stassen of the as-yet-unannounced decision that his agency is slated for dismembering under the new budget, now in preparation.

The President explained he proposes to make military aid, the major activity of the Foreign Operations Agency, which Stassen heads, part of the next defense budget and thus place it under the jurisdiction of Secretary Charles Wilson. Similarly, the Point Four program, which Stassen also administers, would be returned to State Department control.

Effect of these contemplated shifts will be to abolish Stassen's agency and leave him without a job.

However, the President hastened to assure the one-time Minnesota Governor that he will continue to be a member of the Administration's "team." It was at this point that the vacant cabinet seat was brought into the discussion—by Stassen!

According to White House insiders, he suggested his availability for the Labor post.

While Governor, Stassen made national news by putting through a state law that imposed important restrictions on the New Deal's Wagner Labor Act. Also, following President Eisenhower's election, Stassen was widely mentioned as a possibility for Labor Secretary.

The Minnesotean has never made any secret of his eagerness to be in the cabinet. The President, reputedly, responded cordially to Stassen's reference to the Labor vacancy.

"You are now the No. 1 candidate for the appointment," the President is credited with saying. "I think you're just the man I'm looking for."

Short-lived—The junking of the Foreign Operations Agency will set a new record.

It will be the shortest-lived independent bureau in the history of the government.

FOA was created by Congress in the spring of this year at the request of President Eisenhower for the purpose of reshuffling the handling of the various foreign assistance programs. They were taken out of the hands of the State Department and Pentagon and centralized under a single head in the new agency.

But the President now plans to dismantle this creation and to redistribute the aid program to the Departments that originally ran them—in the Truman regime.

Hand-in-glove with this unannounced decision is the intention to slash foreign aid spending to $2,500,000,000, approximately one-half of this present fund. The figure is not final, but it's the goal of Budget Director Joseph Dodge.

The former Detroit banker in charge of the new backstage reorganization of the foreign programs.

He disclosed this significant development in a joint letter to Secretary of State Dulles and Defense Secretary Wilson, as follows:

"The President has suggested that it would be desirable to appropriate military assistance funds directly to the Defense Department beginning in fiscal year 1955 . . . This suggests the possibility of a variety of adjustments in organization, administration relationships, authorizing legislation and budget programming and execution. The President has asked that I obtain the detailed reactions and recommendations of the Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense and Director of the Foreign Operations Agency . . ."

Dodge included a list of specific questions he wanted answered regarding the contemplated reorganization, one of the most interesting being, "Is the establishment of a Department of Foreign Affairs (including both policy and operations) desirable at this time? What effect would the various proposals have on the President and Secretary of State, and their control over foreign policy and the flexibility and implementation of policy?"

Paid Up—Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield has decided not to contest an unannounced ruling by the Internal Revenue Bureau that he owes the government more than $100,000 in income taxes.

The Michigander is paying the claim.

Both he and the Revenue Bureau refuse to discuss the matter, but official word of his decision has been received by the Senate Finance Committee, which has jurisdiction over tax matters. Members of this powerful Committee were keeping a close scrutiny of the handling of this case.

As disclosed by this column last May, no impropriety was involved in the matter.

It was entirely a case of a dispute over capital gains claimed by Summerfield which the Revenue Bureau, after lengthy deliberations, finally rejected. Such controversies are common. Only unusual feature in this instance was that a cabinet member was involved. However, the argument started long before Summerfield expected to become Postmaster General under President Eisenhower.

The first paint color actually to be compounded from inorganic substances was the so-called "Egyptian blue" which was sold as early as 3000 B.C.

The turquoise is the national gem of Iran.

Not Every Labor Leader Owns A Party But He Can Own Top Political Leaders

I was talking to a furrier about his union. It is a Communist-dominated union, but this particular furrier is a decent citizen, devoutly religious, living quietly with his family and minding his own business.

So I asked him why he and people like him tolerate the Red leadership in his union.

"Read the papers and you will understand everything," he replied.

"All right," I said, "so I'll read the papers and what do they show me? They show me that your union bosses are under indictment for conspiracy against our country, they are being deported . . ."

He interrupted:

"That ain't what I'm talking about. I'm talking about Joe Fay and Joe Ryan and labor leaders like that who rob the worker, who take kickbacks, who are themselves capitalists, owning businesses for which we have to work. They tie up with the politicians. And this I want to tell you, Joe Fay ain't no exception. There are plenty of Joe Fays and only he is in prison.

"Maybe the Reds let us take home our pay-checks and don't steal from the welfare fund because they want us to keep our mouths shut when they pass resolutions denying that the Rosenbergs were spies. So I don't complain no matter what I think because these union bosses don't steal my wages."

I thought a good deal about this conversation, which I assure you is authentic. The combination of labor racketeers and politicians has done the labor movement great harm and has helped the Communists. It took the American Federation of Labor two decades to get rid of Joe Ryan's longshoremen's union in New York, a union which has been wrecking this metropolis. It became a sanctuary for criminals and ex-jailbirds and the officers of the American Federation of Labor knew it.

There never was any secret about the combination that Ryan operated: it consisted of murderers, thieves, labor leaders, politicians and certain businessmen engaged in shipping who found it better business to pay off than to keep the port clean. Pilferage became a right, exercised by the union bosses. Investigations disclosed the facts; newspapermen won prizes disclosing the truth; but Ryan held his job and the American Federation of Labor avoided interfering in the internal affairs of a union.

Now that Joe Ryan and his union have been expelled from the American Federation of Labor, a strike has been called; the President has invoked the Taft-Hartley Law and the Attorney General got an injunction; Governor Dewey appealed to the shippers not to sign a new contract with Ryan, and the great fear is that if an election were held, he might win and his union would be certified by the National Labor Relations Board.

These crooked labor leaders always complain about the Taft-Hartley Law and want Congress to abolish it because while the Taft-Hartley Law has not driven them out of business, it has put limitations upon them which could be used by the Government and in the case of the Ryan union have only been resorted to after scandals have been made public by the newspapers. The same goes for Joe Fay.

What gives these crooked men so much power? The answer is, money. They control enormous treasuries, running into the millions of dollars and while nowadays they do generally give some kind of financial report, they can cover their contributions to politicians as "educational expense" or "contingency funds," which they can keep secret under existing laws. Their argument for secrecy is that were they to make such information public, the enemies of labor would have an advantage.

In these lean years of high income taxes, politicians, needing campaign money, especially what is called "under-the-table" money, paid in cash and never reported no matter what the law requires, have discovered in the unions a reservoir of cash which can be tapped for favors promised and performed.

After all, David Dubinsky, who is a good labor leader, owns a political party in New York City which his union supports out of its treasury. He is running his own candidate for Mayor of New York City and, according to his press agent, has given Harry Truman a going-over because the ex-President spoke favorably of another candidate.

Not every labor leader can own a political party but he can own distinguished political leaders.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

My sincere thanks go to Dr. John Henderson, long-time a surgeon at New York's Post-Graduate Hospital, but now medical director of one of the country's largest bandage-and-gauze manufacturing outfits, for the interview he has given to a reporter.

I hope that every American husband will cut this column out, so whenever his wife wants him to do things around the house that he hates to do, he can show it to her and go back to his newspaper or television.

By the same token, SHE can also show it to HIM in case he wants to monkey around with tools or electric appliances or saws or hammers. Any of which occupations or hobbies can get a man into a lot of trouble.

By the way, I want to ask the country's physicians please to stop telling the world that a man needn't take it easy after he has had a heart attack.

I had one six years ago, and ever since I have gotten out of all kinds of work, such as washing dishes or carrying trunks up to the attic.

It used to be the accepted theory that a fellow who once suffered a coronary attack, no matter how mild, must forever after be cuddled and cared for like a baby.

But now the doctors seem to have discovered that that isn't necessary at all, and thus they have made entirely uncalled for inroads into our leisure and dolce far niente (which means really the same thing but sounds much more pretentious).

Well, this Dr. Henderson told the reporter that last year 9,500,000 Americans were injured and 96,000 were killed in home accidents. Some of them were women and children, but the great majority were men.

"Men get into more trouble than any other sex" or something of the sort, the doctor said.

"They are so confident they can repair anything, cook anything, do anything. A little knowledge is a dangerous thing. And it's the men who have it."

So it's up to the wives to see to it that their husbands do as little work around the house as possible in order that they won't become just accident statistics.

It's up to the wives to see to it that their spouses don't drink before taking a bath; that they don't put pennies in fuse boxes; that they don't play around with gasoline-driven equipment — and that they don't be so gosh darn confident that they are masters of all they survey.

Bedroom accidents account for 26.7 per cent of all the domestic mishaps.

Among the most prevalent ones are those that happen when men try to reach light switches from the bed. Often they fall out and hurt themselves terrifically. No rubber mats under scatter rugs and no mats in bath tubs cause another large percentage of accidents.

One of the most frequent accidents is caused by men smoking in bed.

Only 11.2 percent of all home accidents happen in the kitchen —which proves that women are much more careful, and know much more about things in general than men.

Excuse me now. My wife called me. Something went wrong with our toaster. I must show her this column.

Oscar Levant, who has made much out of being a surly bird, admits he's a controversial figure, explaining "people either dislike me or hate my guts." Before he discovered there was gold in being repulsive, he made an indifferent living out of playing the piano (which he does superlatively well) and dashing off an occasional "pop" tune ("Lady, Play Your Mandolin" was the most popular). He liked to visit well-heeled friends, and stayed on and on . . . After a month at the home of Playwright George Kaufman, Mrs. K. told him, "I thought the servants were beginning to look at you peculiarly, so I gave them each five dollars and said it was from you." "Five dollars!" snarled Levant, "You should have given each of them at least ten. Do you think I want them to go around saying I'm stingy?"

Arthur Brown, the Giant rooter, entertained Joe DiMaggio and Lefty O'Doul with baseball yarns the other night. Bill Klem, he said, was the one umpire with a sensayuma. One of the Giants, who had swung and missed the first two strikes, squawked when Klem called him out on the third. The batter groaned: "Oh, Bill! You sure missed that one!"

"You missed the first two, didn'tcha?" barked Klem. "Well, then get the hellouttahere!"

"We send you the very first copy because you, more than anyone alive, are an authority on the Broadway of yesterday as well as today. You know as friends so many of those who were ours. Your Red Feather Agencies:

Jerry's Story Is Typical Of Those In CAS Files

By Leonard Randolph

Jerry was three and a half years old—a slender, emaciated boy with freckles. He was frightened more than any child Mrs. Jean Albert had ever seen.

Right now Jerry was standing in the small outer office of the Children's Aid Society with his tall, tired father on one side, one of his two younger brothers on the other.

As the family filed in, Mrs. Albert closed the door, sat down behind her desk and began writing down the information for Jerry's "case history."

Like many other trained persons who deal in social problems, Mrs. Albert cares little for the term "case history." It is unemotional, does little to characterize the feeling and torment tied in directly with each example of human suffering.

There was nothing unemotional about Jerry's case. He was caught in a maze of blind alleys and dead ends.

"My wife and I've been married ten years. We had our first baby eight years ago. He died six months after he was born . . . and we went on for a long time before we had another."

"When Jerry was born we were happy. It seemed like a new beginning for both of us. He was a fine, strong, healthy little boy."

"A year later we had another child—because we don't believe in having just one kid in the family." The father paused for a moment. "Because we didn't believe . . ."

"The baby was just 11 months old when Jerry caught the rickets and went to the hospital. We didn't have much money and I never did understand what that disease was all about . . . But I guess there are lots of things a man don't understand . . ."

"Why, I don't know, but I guess because of the disease, Jerry's body was all twisted out of shape—he's got a crooked foot, like you see, now—and there wasn't anything we could do right away because Louise was pregnant again and we had that to worry about. Our last baby was born last Spring . . ."

Without warning the man's voice choked off, his eyes widening. To Mrs. Albert it seemed as though her desk had suddenly become a wall between them.

It was a long time before the father spoke again.

"This is the part I don't understand. Even more than the disease. I don't understand it. But I guess maybe I'm not the only one."

"In June, Louise got . . . sick. But not the way other people do. Maybe I was dumb—maybe I still am—but I didn't understand at all. I knew she was nervous and upset and she wasn't happy, but I never had any idea . . ." The man's voice trailed off again and was lost in the sudden surge of a passing car.

"On the first nice day we had in August, the two younger kids and I were outside in the backyard. Louise and Jerry were still in the house. At breakfast she said she wasn't feeling good and she had some cleaning up to do in the kitchen. Jerry stayed with her."

"Mickey—that's our next-to-youngest boy—was mixing mud and water and smearing it all over me and Joey. He's the little one. I parked him with the woman upstairs before I came over."

"Right in the middle of the morning . . . all of a sudden I heard Jerry scream inside the house and then he came running out the door yelling something about Louise . . . and I went into the apartment."

"She was layin' on the floor beside the sink with the razor blade still in her right hand . . . and there was a pool of blood all around her . . . arms."

There was a long pause, again. Then the man's voice—lifeless and without color like a fading radio—went on:

"They took Louise away after that. The doctors say she'll have to stay at the hospital a long time."

"I've tried my best to make things go for the kids. But we don't have any people. Louise's parents are both dead and my folks were separated a long time ago."

"I've tried to work things out. But I have to work all the time and there's nobody to take care of the kids and I don't make hardly any money at all . . ."

Under Mrs. Albert's direction, the Children's Aid Society began a thorough investigation of the story behind Jerry and his brothers.

All the father had said was true—and more. The fathed had failed to tell Mrs. Albert that for nearly five years he had been suffering from a severe heart condition making it impossible for him to hold certain jobs which might have brought more money in.

Jerry was lucky—in a way, Mrs. Albert had, on file, a request from a middle-aged farm family for a boy about Jerry's age.

Like other families which volunteer to help the CAS, the farmer and his wife knew they would be only "foster parents" to the child. That was enough for them. They had had children of their own—but these had grown up, left home and married.

To fill a vacuum in their own lives, they agreed to take Jerry into their homes and "raise" him with the constant cooperation of CAS workers and the child's own father.

Jerry had more problems than most children his age. The shock of seeing his mother's near-suicide had left a horrible, indelible impression on his mind.

His body—twisted by rickets—could be healed with the use of orthopedic treatment and braces. Over a period of years, this was accomplished.

But there are no medical braces for the mind. The weapon against fear is patience and kindness.

Jerry's foster parents soon grew accustomed to the fact that the boy's "fright" extended to nearly everything in a normal, routine day.

Since they could not shield the boy from contact with these experiences, they adopted the attitude that familiarity would help to heal a portion of the breach between the boy and the everyday world.

Jerry did not trust anyone. He was terrified by darkness. Sudden noises made him ill.

A year later, Jerry learned an all-important lesson from his foster parents and the CAS worker

DAR Delegates Return From State Convention

With America as the "honor guest," and "Old Glory" as the featured decor, and "Think America" as the theme, the Pennsylvania State Society of the Daughters of American Revolution held a three-day conference at the Hotel William Penn, Pittsburgh.

The delegates from Jacob Stroud Chapter arrived home last night, enthusiastic about the convention and its speakers.

Mrs. Herbert Patterson, state regent, presided at the conference, and the honored guests were Miss Gertrude Carraway of New Bern, N. C., president general, and Mrs. James B. Patton, honorary president general.

There were about 800 delegates representing the 12,888 members in the state.

Miss Carraway sounded the keynote in her opening address on Monday night on "The DAR as a Constructive Voice in Americanism". Like the farmer who spends more time in planting crops than in pulling weeds, she advised the members to spend more time in planting Americanism than in criticizing communism.

Mrs. James B. Patton said that while the DAR has upheld the original purpose of the UN as an organization of soverign nations to preserve peace in the world, "We are opposed to many of the ramifications which have been proposed by the UN and its agencies." She urged the adoption of the Bricker amendment.

"America Faces the World" was the topic of the address by Dr. Solomon B. Freehof at the State Dinner on Tuesday night. Europeans he said cannot understand the mind of the industrialist who is not concerned with increasing capital for the few but in increasing the goods available to everyone.

Communists do not invite us to share the wealth, but to share their poverty, he said.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It begins to seem like a plot. First I get a home permanent for grey hair through the mail, and now a book on "How To Do Better Hair-coloring" complete with my name engraved in gold.

Little did they know how many grey hairs I'd be adding that very night. Some day I'll write a book on "Why Parents Get Old" with a chapter on "God Bless Teachers" and another on "Why They Call Them New York's Finest."

Meanwhile, it was sort of a comfort to be overwhelmed with social news where everything happens as announced, where things proceed according to Roberts Rules of Order, and the only thing that gets lost is somebody's teaspoon at a covered dish supper.

Sort of feel as if social affairs are like a steam locomotive building up steam. Chug—Brownie meetings; Chug—planning session; Chug—Girl Scout Leaders Training; Chug— G. S. Council dinner; Chug-chug-chug Girl Scout Week, and away they go.

You could do the same thing with practically any organization, and the thing is that all these locomotives are steaming full tilt down a one-track road. Grey hair? Wonder I have any hair at all, the way they're stirring up the breeze as they go by.

She wore a crown of lace and sequins to hold her finger-tip veil of imported French illusion and carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Jerry's Story Reflects Those In CAS Files

On the way to Stroudsburg, Jerry's foster mother explained to him patiently, that what the dentist might do to him would be "painful" but that it would help do away with the pain in his mouth once it was over.

It was simple enough, this admission. But it was the beginning of a new trust and a different faith for Jerry.

The extraction was a fairly painful one—one of the roots of the tooth was badly twisted. But two days later all the pain was gone—including the older, nagging pain caused by the abscessed root.

Jerry knew, for the first time, that someone had given him the straight truth. And it made a difference.

From that day forward Jerry became more and more dependent upon his foster mother. Each additional trust helped to kill a part of the fear.

Each new day was a new beginning.

Jerry has been with his foster parents eight years now. He has grown into a trusting, helpful young man.

To Mrs. Albert, his foster parents and his "worker", Jerry is a prime example of the value of patience.

Time—contrary to the popular saying—does not heal wounds. Only human understanding can work that "miracle."

The scars of early youth, no matter how deeply they go, can be replaced by healthy, living tissue. And that includes the abstract, impermanent tissue of the mind.

The story you have just read is a true one. Some of the events have been changed and the names are not the same.

Children's Aid Society is one of the ten Red Feather agencies of YOUR Community Chest.

Its work does not end with the advance of childhood. Throughout the lifetime of its charges, the CAS provides money for clothing, board and medical care.

Its service is an indispensable one. Instead of placing Monroe County children in State-operated orphan homes, the CAS helps the county to turn its underprivileged children into responsible adults.

A gift to the Chest means a partial gift to Children's Aid Society.

When the Chest worker calls on YOU—give as much as you possibly can.

Give to serve yourself, your family and your community.

It's the best "insurance" you can buy.

Grimsley Picks Sooners To Down Texas

By Bill Grimsley

New York, (AP)—Football games this week-end promise to be as close as the Scotchman who fried his bacon in Lux to keep it from shrinking.

Also in danger of shrinking is our season's average of .757 based on 100 correct picks out of 132.

But, chin up, let's go:

Oklahoma over Texas: Buddy Leake and the Sooners hit their stride against a Texas team which has a flashy backfield but can't match the rugged Oklahoma line.

California over Pennsylvania: The Golden Bears have found a real sparkplug in quarterback Paul Larsoa while the stiff schedule begins to tell on the Quakers.

Northwestern over Minnesota: The Wildcats, behind rifler Dick Thomas, are on the move. The Gophers' Paul Giel has yet to get started.

Georgia Tech over Tulane: The Rambling Wreck has scored only six points in the last two games; Tech has too much speed and power to be contained three weeks in a row.

Ohio State over Illinois: John Borton and Bob Watkins, backed by a powerful line and plenty of replacements, have too much punch for the Illini's young team.

Michigan over Iowa: The Hawkeyes have looked formidable in their first two games but Michigan packs more striking power in Ted Kress and Tony Branoff.

UCLA over Wisconsin: The Uclans are potential Rose Bowl material; Wisconsin, despite two victories, is "middle class" in the Big Ten.

Maryland over Georgia: The best air defense is rush-the-passer. The Terrapins have the speedy line to harass Zeke Bratkowski.

Southern Methodist over Missouri: The Mustangs were almost good enough to beat Georgia Tech. Missouri is good, but no Tech.

The others:

Slaters Risk Perfect Mark In Football

Bangor—Bangor High and its quartet of fleet backs tangle with Wilson Borough in possibly the most important Lehigh-Northampton League football contest of the season for both teams, before an almost capacity crowd here at Memorial Park today. Action is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m.

The Slaters will be searching for their fourth straight win of the campaign, second against league opposition, as two of the clubs most likely to succeed this year meet in a major battle.

Bangor will be at full strength for this game, with the exception of Lou Cacciano, who is out of action for the remainder of the season with an injured knee.

This is the first time in three weeks that Bangor has been anywhere near grade-A physical shape.

Light Drill

Coach Granville Evans sent his charges through a light drill yesterday as he brought the maroon and white clad squad to a peak for tonight's struggle.

Bangor's defensive team will have Walter "Red" Heard and "Bucky" Parsons at end; Dally and Stenlake will remain at the tackles; Ray Heaney, 250 pounds, and Castellucci will handle the guard posts. Cotturo and DeVito will back up the line. Duane Miller will play safety, while Rodney Miller and Mugavero hold down the defensive halfback posts.

Wilson, defending title holder in the Lehigh-Northampton League, will bring a strong team to town, one deep in reserves. The invading squad will be led by Don Price, one of the top passing artists in the Lehigh Valley.

Snider Nips Mathews In Close Battle For Slugging Championship In National League

Snider, a native Californian, slugged for a mark of .6271 to .6269 for the sophomore Braves' third baseman—a difference of .002. "Duke" hit for 370 total bases in 599 times at bat and Mathews had 363-for-579. Associated Press statistics revealed yesterday.

Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians took American League honors with a .613 average. The hard-hitting third sacker accounted for 367 total bases in 599 at bats. He led the junior circuit in home runs with 43, also numbering 27 doubles and five triples among his 201 safeties.

Tops Circuit

Mathews, who paced the league in home runs with 47, failed to hit for an extra-base in his last four games. He had 175 hits, which also included 34 doubles and eight triples, in 579 trips.

Brooklyn's Roy Campanella, who slugged .609, was third. Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals fourth with .607.

Gus Zernial, who finished second to Rosen in home runs with 42, also was runnerup in the American League slugging derby. The Philadelphia A's outfielder cracked out 310 total bases in 555 at bats for a .559 mark.

Ted Williams, who rejoined the Boston Red Sox in August, slugged at a .901 pace in 37 games. He had 82 total bases, including six doubles and 13 home runs, in 91 trips.

Junior High Eleven Meets Hackettstown

East Stroudsburg Junior High School will take part in its third football game of the season today when the Cavaliers play host to Hackettstown Junior High, at Memorial Stadium. The game is scheduled to begin at 3:30 p. m.

The Cavaliers will be seeking win number one when they go into action this afternoon. The Eastburg squad has suffered loses at the hands of Whitehall and Lehighton, the former at Memorial Stadium and the latter at Lehighton.

Doubtful

Coach Mike Evans announced last night that he would stick to his usual lineup if possible. The big question mark as of last night was LeRoy LaBar, who has been sidelined by illness. If LaBar is unable to play Carl Smith will move to fullback and Ronald Van Why will open at right halfback.

Kimberly Kid Triumphs

Lexington, Ky., (AP)—Heavily favored Kimberly Kid swept to straight heat victories to capture the rich Kentucy Futurity for three-year-old trotters at the Lexington Trots yesterday.

White Sox General Manager Fails To Pull Biggest Deal Of Career -- Himself To Orioles

Chicago, (AP)—Frank Lane, the high-pressure baseball salesman who traded the once lowly White Sox into pennant contention, yesterday failed to swing his hottest trade yet—himself to the Baltimore Orioles.

General Manager Lane announced that:

"After some deliberation a decision has been reached that I should not enter into any discussion with the Baltimore club in regard to that club's general managership in view of the fact my contract with the White Sox has two more years to run."

Negotiations

This ended two days of mysterious negotiations during which it was reliably reported Lane's eagerness to take over operation of the new Baltimore entry in the American League was firmly squelched by his present employers.

Although the Baltimore Club never publicly announced an offer to Lane, it was learned Lane was promised a fat salary and a chance to own Oriole stock if he could wraggle a release from the White Sox.

East Stroudsburg To Play Morrisville Next Saturday

The big football mystery has been solved. East Stroudsburg High School will tangle with Morrisville High next Saturday, finally and definitely, it was announced last night by Lewis R. Hastie, faculty athletic manager.

Prior to yesterday there was doubt as to whether the football tussle would take place next Friday or Saturday night. There was no difficulty between the two schools, but a Morrisville oversight had placed some doubt on the contest.

The original contract between the two schools was dated Friday, October 16, but Morrisville had operated under the belief that the game was slated for Saturday, October 17.

Request

When Morrisville realized its mistake, it asked East Stroudsburg to change the game to Saturday. The N. Courtland St. school quickly agreed, only to find that it faced a tough transportation problem next Saturday night.

This put further doubt on the game, but all ended well yesterday when East Stroudsburg was able to arrange suitable transportation.

The contest will be played Saturday, October 17, at 8:15 p. m., at Morrisville.

East Stroudsburg's "Pep Band" plans to make the trip as do a large number of fans.

Powell Gives Boxing Lesson

Streak Ends

Thomas brought a string of nine straight knockout victories to Detroit with him for the televised feature, dull most of the way.

Braves Limit Number Of Season Tickets

Milwaukee, (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves, who set a National League attendance record this year, will sell only 12,000 season tickets for 1954, General Manager John Quinn said yesterday.

"We could sell a lot more," Quinn explained, "but if we did we'd be depriving many people who can't afford to buy tickets for the entire season a chance to see some games. We want to have tickets for those people."

Return

Quinn said that big blocks of seats ordered by industrial concerns, running as high as $35,000, would be returned.

"We know what has happened to baseball and hockey clubs which sold every season ticket available," he said. "They drove away a lot of fans and when the season buyers fell off the attendance dropped, too."

Cardinals Name Two Managers

St. Louis (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals yesterday announced the signing of two managers for minor league farm clubs.

Ferrell "Andy" Anderson of Joplin, Mo., who appeared in 18 games as a Cardinal catcher last season, will direct Omaha of the class "A" Western League.

Pony League

Jimmy Brown, onetime Cardinal second baseman, will manage Hamilton, Ont., of the class "D" Pony League. He managed Winston-Salem, N. C., last season.

Dodgers Promote Seven From Farms

Brooklyn (AP) — The Brooklyn baseball club, strengthening for next year, bought seven players from farm club affiliates yesterday and at the same time sold three Dodgers outright to Montreal in the International League.

Sold to Montreal were John Rutherford, righthanded pitcher who played with Fort Worth this past season; lefthanded pitcher Chris Van Cuyk, who finished the season with St. Paul of the American Association, and catcher Dick Teed, who played with Mobile of the Southern Association.

New Faces

Baseball Trial Delayed One Day

St. Louis, (AP)—A suit by minority stockholders of the St. Louis Browns, who are seeking to block transfer of the club to Baltimore, was postponed yesterday until today.

Motion

Earlier Circuit Judge William B. Flynn had set the trial for 3 p.m. yesterday, and took under advisement a motion for dismissal of part of the suit.

Life of Riley

Sports Editor

We're a day late this week, but I guess it's impossible to skip the troublesome task of picking football winners and losers, a task that has become doubly difficult of late. Last week the column managed to select correctly the result of 45 games, while missing on 18 attempts. A quick check of figures reveals that at the present time the record shows 127 correct predictions and 40 of the wrong variety. A further check of the figures also reveals that this column's average has been reduced to a fading .761.

The local front presents at least one tough guess this weekend. Stroudsburg High will take Pen Argyl into camp tonight and East Stroudsburg will bounce back on the victory wagon with a decision over a vastly improved Lehighton contingent at Memorial Stadium tomorrow night. East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and Shippensburg, both highly regarded in the State Teachers College Conference, clash head-on at Shippensburg tomorrow. A timid nod in favor of ESSTC.

One of the biggest games of the Lehigh-Northampton League season will take place in Bangor tonight, with the Slaters tangling with Wilson Borough. The entire game shapes up as Wilson's big line, rich reserves and the passing arm of Don Price against the fleet-running Bangor backfield. After watching the Slaters in action last week, this scribe will string along with Coach Granville Evans and company tonight. Tonight's winner will have a good start toward the circuit title this year.

On the national scene it looks like Army over Dartmouth, Villanova over Boston College and Penn State to clip Boston University. Brown will nip Rhode Island, Holy Cross will rip Bucknell, Harvard will edge Colgate and Yale will dump Columbia. Navy is a sure thing over Cornell, Syracuse will clip Fordham, Lafayette will shade Muhlenberg and California will knock Penn from the ranks of the undefeated. Pittsburgh will down Nebraska, Princeton won't have much trouble with Rutgers and Cincinnati will run wild over Toledo.

Houston will down Detroit, Drake will get by South Dakota, Ohio State will trip Illinois, Indiana will slide by Marquette and Michigan will crush Iowa. Kansas State appears to be a sure thing over Iowa State, while Kansas tops Colorado and Michigan State defeats Texas Christian. Northwestern rates a slight edge over Minnesota, Southern Methodist will down Missouri and Texas will down Oklahoma, while Oklahoma A. and M. trips Wichita, Duke downs Purdue, Alabama blasts Tulsa and UCLA defeats Wisconsin.

Mississippi State will decision Auburn, Tennessee will crush Chattanooga, VMI will down The Citadel and Miami is too strong for Clemson. North Carolina State will outscore Davidson, Florida will crush Stetson and Furman will upend South Carolina. George Washington will defeat Virginia, Georgia will club Maryland and Georgia Tech will edge Tulane. Louisiana State will clip Kentucky, Vanderbilt will edge Mississippi, North Carolina will edge Wake Forest and VPI will down Richmond. West Virginia will roll over Washington and Lee, Baylor will crush Arkansas and Rice will roll over Hardin-Simmons.

Texas A. and M. will edge Texas Tech, Arizona will trip New Mexico, Wyoming will edge Colorado A. and M., Utah will top Utah State and Denver will down Montana. It looks like Montana State over Colorado State, Washington State over Oregon and Stanford seems to have an edge over Oregon State. College of the Pacific will defeat Hawaii, San Jose State will decision Tempe State and Southern California will take the measure of Washington. Well there it is, another list of predictions and a reminder to stock up on aspirin for this Sunday's weekly headache.

Stroudsburg Host To Pen Argyl Foe

Mountaineers Searching For Fourth Victory

Stroudsburg High school will shoot for its fourth straight football victory of the current campaign today, when the Mountaineers play host to Pen Argyl High at Gordon Giffels Field. The kickoff is scheduled to take place at 8 p.m.

The Mountaineers will be at full strength for the first time in two weeks and will be stepping out of the Lehigh Valley League wars for the initial time this season.

Stroudsburg scored circuit victories over Lehighton, 19-6; Emmaus, 32-14, and Palmerton, 13-7, in previous outings.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis announced last night that his Warriors are as near top physical condition as they have been in recent games.

Jack Whittle, out of action recently with a damaged hip, will return to the defensive lineup against Pen Argyl and will back up the line as in the past.

Don Deibler is also scheduled to see action in Stroudsburg's defensive backfield.

Hintze has been hampered by a painful boil of late and if he is unable to play tonight, Newhart will take over the center duties.

Pen Argyl, a member of the Lehigh-Northampton League, will be taking part in its third football outing of the current campaign and will be searching for its second victory.

The green and white clad gridders dropped a 26-0 battle to East Stroudsburg and then bounced back with a 20-14 victory over Catasauqua last Saturday.

Association All-Stars Seek Second Victory

Lake Ariel—The Pocono Mountains Association All-Stars, with perhaps the best selection ever having been made by the loops managers, and a select group from the Wayne County League will engage in their annual post-season classic, their seventh in a series instituted in 1946, at Stourbridge field, Honesdale, Sunday, starting at 2:15 p.m.

The Poconos, who will be master-minded by Manager "Hank" Eotjer, of the pennant-winning Newfoundland Bears, and Harry Sebring, skipper of the post-season titlists, Gouldsboro, will be seeking their second win. And if Sam Curtis, who was rated the league's best as a pitcher by seven of the eight managers, is present, then the Poconos can be rated the favorites. Curtis, a lefty, is a student at Penn State.

Big Guns

Led by first sacker Bill Herring, (.528), and outfielder Steve Ferke and the ex-pro, Jerry Lynn, both of whom hit .599, (the trio finished in that order for batting honors), the Poconos are sure to pack plenty of power and collectively have a batting average of .368.

As always, the two leagues put on a good show and interesting contests as indicated by the results since the inception of the series:

1946—Wayne 11, Pocono 7.
1947—Wayne 7, Pocono 5.
1948—Pocono 5, Wayne 3.
1949—Wayne 4, Pocono 2.
1950—Wayne 5, Pocono 4.
1951—No game, cold weather
1952—Wayne 7, Pocono 3.

Moore Receives Second Big Chance In Ring

New York (AP) — Terry Moore, who once subbed for a sub and scored an upset, moves back into the domestic fight picture tonight in a familiar role—as a sub.

The stocky, 24-year-old Baltimore Negro replaces lanky Randy Sandy against rock-throwing Willie Troy of Washington at 10 p.m. The tussle will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC) coast to coast.

Illness

Sandy's illness provided Terry with his break and the traveling middleweight hopes to make the most of his opportunity.

Two years ago Moore was called on 24 hours notice to replace Ray Barnes, who had been signed to sub for Dick Wagner against "Chuch" Hunter at the same St. Nicholas Arena. Moore, a nine to five underdog, won a split decision over Hunter.

Commercial C To Roll

Commercial "C" League keglers swing into action at Harmon's Recreation today, at 9:15 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Lanterman's Funeral Home vs. Worthington Mower.

Alleys three and four—Bartonsville Hotel vs. Marsh's Foundry.

Alleys five and six—Warner's Funeral Home vs. Ray Price Motors.

Robinson Must Put All-Negro Team On Field In Birmingham

Birmingham, (AP)—A police official yesterday said Jackie Robinson's all-stars won't be permitted to play in Birmingham if they use a mixed team of whites and Negroes.

Police Commissioner Eugene Conner first said the team's game with a Negro League outfit here October 18 would be banned, but later explained an all-Negro contest would be all right.

Birmingham has a city ordinance which prohibits "mixed athletic events," Conner pointed out.

No Trouble

An official handling the tour in New York said the Robinson team "will observe such an ordinance if the city law says so"—so there didn't appear to be any obstacle to the contest as scheduled.

Robinson's teams were made up of all-Negro players in the past, so the question hadn't arisen before. This year he has signed several leading white players, including Cleveland's Al Rosen, Detroit's Ralph Branca and Brooklyn's Gil Hodges.

Wrigley Issues Idea For Third Major League

Los Angeles, (AP) — Philip K. Wrigley, who owns major and minor league baseball clubs, thinks the Pacific Coast League should invite the top "minor" clubs in the east to set up a third major league.

Interviewed in New York by Los Angeles newspapermen, the owner of the National League's Chicago Cubs and the Coast League's Los Angeles Angels suggested that instead of a major move toward the west, the Coast League might move east in its third major league aspiration.

Examples

Such minor league cities as Kansas City, Denver, Houston, Dallas or St. Paul-Minneapolis might be interested in such a realignment, Wrigley said in stories published here.

He added that there might even be a present major league club—and he mentioned the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics—which might be lured into the fold.

Wrigley said he plans to offer such a suggestion when the Coast League meets here October 29.

Vacancies

That presumably leaves three new coaches to pick for Phil Cavaretta, Wednesday re-hired by the Cubs as manager for 1954.

The coaching shakeup was announced by Wid Matthews, Cub director of player personnel. Matthews said no decision has been made on possible successors to Root, Davis and Johnson.

Americans Searching For Solutions

by Stanley High

the world, we are beginning to try to do something about ourselves.

Under today's unhappy pressures, Americans are doing some salutary appraising. We are beginning to suspect that our lack of faith is not so much an intellectual achievement as the Intellectual vogue; that our lack of tingle when the flag goes by is not so much a mark of our maturity as of our underdeveloped imagination; that our synicism, like our liquor, leaves us, by the end of the evening, not sparkling but dull; that in exchange for the absolutes we have got mostly dissolutes.

Out of all this more and more of us seem ready to admit that he have lost something—even though we can't quite identify it; and are consciously searching for something—even though we can't quite describe it.

Perhaps the nearest thing to a name for it—what we have lost and for what we are seeking—is religion. Our history and national character being what they have been, that is more likely here than in most places. In our earliest history, religion undeniably belonged where, in his Farewell Address, Washington put it; first among America's "Indispensable supports."

Latterly it has been true that, among these indispensables, religion is the one we have been trying hardest to get along without. The results which have accrued to us and our society do not commend the effort. And one day, when honest scholarship returns to style we may expect an examination of the likelihood that this sequence was in considerable measure, a matter of cause and effect.

I do not believe there is any revival of religion in the ordinary sense. But there is a growing curiosity as to whether or not religion may be the answer and an increasing openmindedness toward the possibility that it is.

Church membership in proportion to population, and church attendance are at an all-time high. Religious books, out of all proportion to their numbers and, at times, their worth, are high among the best sellers. Bishop Fulton Sheen goes boldly on TV opposite Milton Berle—to the loss, not to the Bishop, but to the comedian.

Even our "intellectuals"—generally the first to fall for a vogue and the last to recover from it—are taking stock and beginning to come up in a new place. A college professor recently wrote a book, "The Shame and Glory of the Intellectuals," giving far more space to the shame than to the glory. A well-known university professor recently declared: "God give us intelligent men instead of those whose intellectuality has outrun their patriotism." A few months ago a magazine asked 25 prominent writers this question: "Have American intellectuals grown more friendly of late to America?" Although they professed not to like it, the answer of the 25, unanimously, was "Yes."

This accumulating evidence does not prove at all that Americans have found or, even, were very near to finding what they are searching for. I think it does prove that, for the first time in a long time, we are consciously searching.

Nobody knows exactly where we will arrive or whether we will get there in time. But it is at least a small straw in a moderately better wind to know that—in terms of what we live by and for—we, almost desperately, would like to feel we are on the way.

County Approves Purchase Of Duplicating Machine

Purchase of a duplicating machine for about $400 was authorized yesterday by commissioners.

The machine will be used mainly for the permanent record assessment system being set up by John B. Aicher.

The gadget is about the size of a large briefcase or a small suitcase. Any paper fed into its rollers will be duplicated in a few seconds, with the duplicate emerging in the form of a negative.

The negative is then fed into the rollers with still another kind of paper, and a copy of the original document emerges.

The whole process takes a few seconds.

The machine is operated electrically, and the principle is photographic. The specially-coated papers are passed through a developing solution inside the machine which brings out the latent image in the emulsion.

Purpose of buying the machine is to enable Aicher to include in the assessment records one copy of each pertinent deed of Monroe County property.

Aicher estimated there are about 20,000 such deeds—the last deed of record. The copy, on 8.5 by 11 inch paper, will be filed in the permanent system and will be easily available.

HEADING FOR THE TOP

TAKING PARLOR GAMES out into the open, motorcycle enthusiasts in Gilford, N. H., recently held a roundup in which they played versions of walk the plank, break the balloon and carry water without spilling it while riding around a circular course. Highlight of the roundup was a hill climb in which motorcycle riders raced up an incline of nearly 65 degrees in spots. The hill climb was on the same spot that, in winter, is the scene of the famous Torger Tokle memorial ski jump at Belknap. And, perhaps appropriately enough, all the proceeds from this motorcycle roundup went to a hospital fund.

Adventists To Give To Radio Fund

A special offering to help sponsor Christian broadcasting in 52 languages through the facilities of more than 300 radio stations will be taken at the Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventist Church, N. Second St., Saturday morning, Pastor Adams announced yesterday.

The program, known as the "Voice of Prophecy," originates in Los Angeles, Calif., and is heard weekly on two networks in this country in addition to several hundred foreign stations. The English speaker is H. M. S. Richards, Glendale, Calif., program director.

Pastor Adams said the program offers a free home-study Bible course in many languages. Nearly 400,000 persons have graduated from the course, he said.

In addition to the international broadcast of the "Voice of Prophecy," the world-wide organization of Seventh-day Adventists sponsors a coast-to-coast telecast, "Faith For Today," now seen on more than 50 stations.

Adventists also operate an extensive system of educational, medical, and publishing institutions around the world and extends into practically every nation in the world.

Last year the denomination spent more on foreign missions than did any other Protestant denomination and sent nearly as many overseas missionaries abroad as did any other regularly-organized missionary society.

Each year the church conducts its annual missions appeal program for the public but the bulk of the missions expenses comes from the membership of the organization.

THIS IS ARTIST Karl Leydenfrost's conception of the roller-coaster sequence from "This Is Cinerama". The firm, which gives the "illusion of depth", opened this week at Boyd Theater, Philadelphia. The Boyd is the only theater between New York and Washington which will show Cinerama.

Cinerama Improvement Over Present Movies But It Should Also Have Depth Of Meaning

By Leonard Randolph

One of the movies' newest weapons in the war against that dread disease "TV" was unveiled at the Boyd theater, Philadelphia, this week.

Like most wonder drugs the newest form of motion on celluloid has a flashy, if not complicated, name.

It's called "Cinerama" and it's been enormously successful in New York, Detroit, Chicago and several other cities in which it has been released.

Cinerama differs from normal movies—the kind you see on local screens—in this way:

Ordinary "two-dimensional" movies are shot with one camera. Because they lack an acute sense of "depth", these movies are now being referred to as "flat."

Cinerama is photographed with three cameras, each shooting the scene from a slightly different angle. Sound is recorded "sterophonically" to give the illusion that it is coming from the same direction as the object moves on the screen.

In projection, Cinerama's three strips of film are thrown (in greatly magnified proportions) onto three separate surfaces replacing the customary one-sheet screen.

The Cinerama screen is not "curved" as are Cinema Scope or wide-angle screens. Instead of a solid piece of material, the Cinerama screen consists of hundreds of vertical strips, resembling venetian blinds. The right and left sections are set at angles to the center.

Unlike the so-called "3-D" movies, Cinerama requires no glasses for viewing. You sit in your seat, look at the screen and get an illusion of depth simply because you are seeing "more of the view" out of the corner of each eye.

Cinerama is the brain child of an inventive genius named Fred Waller. In modified form it was used in air force training films during World War Two.

In its present display called "This Is Cinerama" for purposes of exploitation and drama — the process is effective once in a while routine at other times and quite occasionally a bore.

"This Is Cinerama" opens with a lengthy spiel by travelog-artist Lowell Thomas, who owns a slice of the corporation. Thomas explains the caveman's technique of showing motion—a drawing of an animal with eight legs.

Now, says Thomas in his final pitch, something new has been added. He means Cinerama, of course.

The roadshow exhibition of the new process then opens. With dimensions six times as wide and twice as tall, the projectors throw a series of scene illustrating the uses to which Cinerama may be put.

Judging by the current show, those uses are highly limited.

First Cinerama takes its audience on a roller-coaster ride. This opening sequence is effective but not sensational. There is a feeling of added depth and of more audience participation, but that's about all.

From here Cinerama cameras focus on an overlong trip on a gondola through a Venetian canal; a static, emotionally unmoving, mediocre ballet performance of the march scene from Verdi's "Aida" and a photographically ineffectual episode showing a church choir (from Long Island) singing.

During the second half of the program Cinerama turns its attention to Florida's "Cypress Gardens" and to the broad horizons of America itself.

In its pictorial tour through the swamps of Cypress, the medium again illustrates how easy it is to overdo a gimmick. With the voice of Thomas constantly inserting coy comments and plugs for the owner of the joint, Cinerama's view of a pictorially enchanting place becomes lackluster and depressingly overlarge.

It is in its final sequence that "This Is Cinerama" begins to give a hint of its possible place in the scheme of things to come.

On an aerial jaunt from New York City to Pittsburgh's "Triangle," Gary's feed mills, Chicago's lake shore and the Midwest's wheat fields, Cinerama puts a new horizon on the field of the travelogue.

Its most effective scene, photographically, is a brilliant shot showing the runway of Kansas City airport during the landing of a plane. Cinerama's cameras were trained on the runway from the nose of the plane.

It is very true that the Cinerama screen shows "more" of the scene being shot. But most of the scenes used in "This Is Cinerama" were not exciting ones. More than this, they lend themselves hardly at all to the motion picture medium.

In both sight and sound, Cinerama is the biggest of the "big" things promised by Hollywood and other film producers to the nation's aching movie exhibitors whose box - office take has been sinking.

Whatever the outcome of the television-movie debate may be, Cinerama does not, at present, provide the answer to dwindling theater audiences. It is a costly, complicated system requiring special knowledge and a specialized audience. It has a future, but it will probably not rest in the depiction of movies as we have known them during the past few years.

Experts, taking note of the size of Cinerama's image, have promised us that, if the process is used for "story" movies, there will be no "close-ups" crowding the screen.

This should come as a relief to moviegoers who find the idea of sitting in a theater surrounded on all three sides by huge hunks of Marlon Brando or Charles Laughton an unnerving one, indeed.

Cinerama—like "Natural Vision" and the "panoramic screen" processes—seems to have a misconception of the real meaning of "depth".

Depth in a movie is basically the same as it is in a book or a television program or an ordinary event in human life.

If the story related or the event shown is worth telling or re-telling then the "depth" will be there.

Real depth comes from the meaning of the film. If it has no meaning and no emotional impact, the "illusion of depth", which comes from filling the eye physically, will be a basically worthless thing.

Allies Base Decision On EDC Gains

By J. M. Roberts Jr.
Associated Press News Analyst

The Anglo-American decision to turn the city of Trieste back to Italy may have some effect on Italian acceptance of the European defense program, but certainly does not ease the bitterness of the territorial dispute with Yugoslavia.

Yugoslav reaction has been prompt and clear.

"The Yugoslav government," Tito said, "is not ready to agree with this decision and will take all measures at its disposal under the United Nations charter."

He obviously feels that the move will give Italy a vastly strengthened bargaining position with regard to the whole territory.

His first statement seems to take little cognizance of the removal of the 7,000 British and American troops as a gesture of Angle-American trust attesting to better relations between Belgrade and the West as a whole.

And there is as yet no assurance—at least no public assurance—that Italy will accept the new status as the "settlement" she said she must have before she can join the European Defense Community.

Insofar as the civil status of the city itself is concerned, the Anglo-American decision merely serves to formalize what has been a de facto situation since 1948. Trieste has been governed, and its economy oriented, almost as though it were a part of Italy. Its police force, organized like a light army, is manned almost entirely by Italians.

Despite a considerable Slovene population, there has never been any question about the Italian nature of Trieste. There is a considerable ethnic question in Zone B, occupied by Yugoslavia. Some of the small cities there are likewise predominantly Italian.

It has never been clear whether Italy would ever agree to give up these towns, or whether Tito would ever give up on the big port. On the latter point observers have thought that it should be possible to work out Yugoslav access to the port, even though it is controlled by Italy, on a basis of profit to both countries.

The Anglo-American decision is a considerable sacrifice of military position both in the Mediterranean and with relation to Austria and the Balkans.

For years now the occupation troops and the constant presence of American warships at the head of the Adriatic have served as a potent reminder of Allied interest in the whole area, and as a potential base for military operations in southeastern Europe should the need arise.

The chief Allied hope now is that the political gains, especially in the attitude of the Italian parliament toward EDC, will offset this sacrifice.

Joint Chiefs Divided On Arms Budget

By Robert S. Allen

They are lined up two to one on this crucial issue, as follows:

Both figures exceed the $34,372,000,000 voted by Congress for the military services this fiscal year.

The embattled Joint Chiefs submitted their two-to-one report to Defense Secretary Charles Wilson several days ago. They have been working on the new budget for weeks, but the best they could do was to agree to disagree.

Wilson shot back their report with a specific injunction that they resume deliberations until they reach a unanimous agreement.

The proposed budget submitted to Wilson under the two-to-one split allocated funds as follows:

Army, $13,000,000,000; Air Force, $11,700,000,000; Navy, $9,800,000,000; Stockpiling, etc., $700,000,000.

The Air Force is insisting on $13,000,000,000,000 on the ground that is the minimum needed to continue the authorized program of developing 143 wings.

Under the current budget, Congress gave the Army $12,900,000,000, the Air Force $11,400,000,000, the Navy $9,400,000,000, and $759,550,000 for stockpiling and tooling requirements.

Highly significant regarding the unpublished report is the fact that the Joint Chiefs completely bypass in the next fiscal year. As far as they are concerned, they are completely ignoring budget cutting.

Pinola Reinstates 15 Candidates

Wilkes-Barre, (AP)—Luzerne County Judge Pinola has reinstated 15 Democratic candidates whose names were ordered withheld from the Nov. 3 ballot because they had failed to file loyalty oaths.

The action paved the way for a similar ruling in connection with three Republicans.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figure give you.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1953

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Mercury in beneficent aspect today. Study, teaching, legal matters, investigations, research among the mental interests top favored. Smart management will pay.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Should be a good day for planning, carrying out well-arranged programs in work, public affairs or your own private interests. Workers in industrial trades should use extra caution.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—One of the most interesting and stimulating days in this generally favorable for-Gemini month. Don't let the grass grow under your feet, but THINK as you act and attend to urgent tasks first.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—You should be in serene, pleasant mood, eager to study, analyze or solve problems before you. Try new ideas that have promise; use new methods, machinery, materials with profit.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—This can be a profitable day IF you think before you talk and act. Fresh gain in your occupation, perhaps some new advancement (if earned). Do your best, keep amiable and you will speed ahead

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Stimulating Mercury influences. Look forward and, without straining health, try to make this a "red letter" day. Your special interest, work, family affairs under favorable rays.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—While day is splendid for honest interests and cleverly-managed and wisely-planned activities, there is an admonition to be conscientious and amenable in disposition. Watch diet.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Fresh advantages, perhaps important contacts likely. Be your keen self but don't be arbitrary or too demanding because others may not be entirely agreeable. Graciousness and accuracy count.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Fresh interests for student, teacher, secretary, bookkeeper, research worker, analyst, investigator. Good day for self sound planning and management. Home, family bring happiness.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Your Saturn-mild influence but a beneficent Mercury spells advancement, progress in useful endeavor, trade or profession IF honesty is maintained. You can gather knowledge if you seek it.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—May be slow for some activities now but aspects become better as the day advances. Plan and allocate duties, matters carefully to get best results.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Similar to Aquarius today. Outlook improved for Saturday's plans and activities. Friendly influences now should encourage you to double efforts. Romance, family favored.

YOU BORN TODAY are serene, trusting, conscientious, generally capable and talented. If true to your inherent fine qualities you are a good friend, useful citizen, a loving and beloved parent and lifemate. You folks often attain your greatest success late in life so keep trying, keep faith in God and in the right and you will be a good citizen, respected and beloved. Birthdate: Miguel de Cervantes, noted Spanish writer; Edward Bok, editor, writer.

'Your Health'

From The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania and the Monroe County Medical Society

The high state of development of preventive medicine is probably best illustrated in the records of the United States Army.

Many of these served in the most unhealthful regions of the world.

In spite of this, the disease rate in World War II was lower than in any former military conflict in history.

World War II was the first war in history not followed by major epidemic diseases.

The disease rate was only 0.6 per 1,000 per year as compared with 16 per 1,000 per year in World War I and 25 per 1,000 per year in the Spanish-merican War.

In fact, World War II was the first major conflict in which more military personnel died from direct enemy action than from disease.

In the Spanish-American War, 5 military personnel died from disease to every 1 injured by enemy action.

In World War I, the ratio was reduced to slightly more than 1 fatality from disease to 1 resulting from enemy action.

In World War II, death due to battle exceeded death caused by disease by a ratio of 17 to 1.

Take malaria as one example of the aggressive methods of control used during World War II.

The United States Army conducted a massive mosquito control campaign in all military installations in the United States and in many overseas areas.

The low disease rate in American troops resulting from the control program proved the effectiveness of such measures.

A generation ago, malaria, particularly in the South, was a major cause of chronic disability and economic loss.

During 1950 there were only about 20 cases of malaria reported as contracted in all of the United States, according to estimate.

Preventive measures pay large dividends.

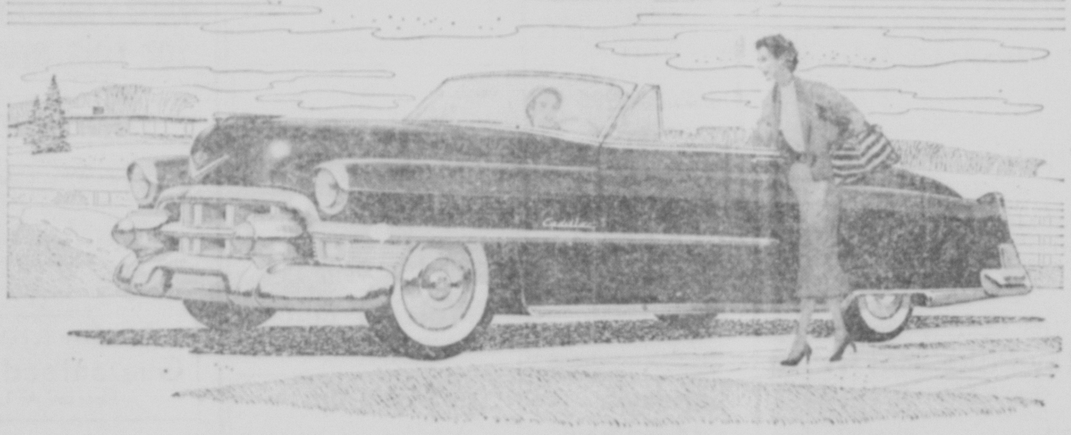
Cadillac


Special Favorite of the Ladies!
When a Cadillac comes into the service of a family that has never owned one before, it is—quite naturally—a source of great pride and happiness to the entire family group.
But we have noticed, through the years, that the car is a very special favorite with the ladies. For, most assuredly, a Cadillac does some very wonderful and extraordinary things for a lady.
First of all, she looks her loveliest when she is seated behind its wheel. Every time she takes to the highway, she finds herself the focal point in a perfectly gorgeous picture.
And she feels just as wonderful as she looks.
The car's deep, luxurious cushions cradle her in magnificent comfort throughout the longest journey. The great responsiveness of the quiet, powerful engine gives her a marvelous sense of command. The car steers and brakes and drives with such miraculous ease that she actually rests and relaxes as she rides.
Of course, there are a great many other satisfactions which a lady finds in a new Cadillac car.
There is, for instance, her delight at seeing her family surrounded with every comfort and safeguard known to the science of motor car design. And there is the deep and rewarding sense of fulfillment which comes with ownership of such a prized and sought-after possession. Even parked in her driveway, the car is a tribute to her good taste and judgment . . . and a wonderful complement to the beauty and graciousness of her home.
To any gentleman reading this advertisement—we would like to make a suggestion:
Some day soon—when the sky is bright and the time is right—ask your lady if she wouldn't like to take a ride in a 1953 Cadillac.
We think we know what the answer will be—and we'll be happy to see you, indeed.

Yugoslavs Reject Anglo-American Decision To Quit Trieste

Oppose Move To Let Italy Occupy City

Washington (AP) — The United States and Great Britain said yesterday they intend to allow Italy to occupy the city of Trieste, and surrounding Zone A of the disputed territory, a decision which the Yugoslav government declared bitterly it will refuse to accept.

In announcing the imminent withdrawal of Anglo-American occupation forces, the State Department expressed hope the move would lead to "a final peaceful solution" of the long quarrel between Italy and Yuogslavia over the Free Territory of Trieste.

Its immediate result, however, was serious rioting in Belgrade. Yugoslavs poured into the streets by the thousands, shouting "We will give up our lives, but not Trieste!"

The American, British and Italian embassies were stoned and many windows broken. An American Marine was slightly injured in the rioting.

Official Italy, on the other hand, hailed the impending transfer of authority with jubilation. Yugoslavia now occupies Zone B of the disputed territory, while the British and Americans administer Zone A, which includes the city of Trieste.

Yugoslavia's stand in the face of the new developments was broadcast by Vice President Edvard Kardelj, who said "We cannot leave to the mercy of the Italians tens of thousands of Slovenes still living in Trieste."

Kardelj said the Anglo-American move would be appealed to the United Nations, and it was reported that Yugoslavia would file formal protests with the Western powers before the day is out.

State Department officials here expressed concern over the violent Yugoslav reaction. But they indicated that neither Yugoslav nor Italian protests would cause Britain and the United States to change their minds.

"It is the firm belief of the two governments," the State Department said, "that this step will contribute to the stabilization of a situation which has disturbed Italo-Yugoslav relations in recent years."

Authoritative Western sources in Rome added that the move was an effort to equalize Italy's position in Zone A with Yugoslavia's in Zone B so that the two countries could begin direct negotiations for a settlement.

Kardelj, in his radio speech, said it would not contribute to improvement of Yugoslav-Italian relations, but to the contrary would provoke new Italian claims.

The Anglo-American decision will give Italy, temporarily at least, the biggest slice of the melon—the city of Trieste itself and its Adriatic port facilities.

Both Italy and Yugoslavia claim the whole Free Territory of Trieste, an area of 320 square miles created by the Big Four foreign ministers as part of the Italian Peace Treaty in 1947.

At present some 4,000 American and 3,000 British troops garrison Zone A. They will be withdrawn and replaced with Italian troops "at the earliest practicable date," the State Department said.

Says Russia Capable Of Attacking U. S.

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower said yesterday Soviet Russia now has "the capability of atomic attack on us" and commands "a weapon or the forerunner of a weapon of power far in excess of the conventional types."

The President made the statement at his news conference in an effort to clarify seemingly conflicting statements by various officials on the potentialities of Soviet atom bomb and hydrogen bomb developments.

Eisenhower also announced that he has asked all members of his administration "to refrain from comment on Soviet nuclear capabilities unless they first check their statements with the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission."

As for this country's strength, Eisenhower gave assurance that the arsenal of U.S. atomic weapons is "large and increasing steadily."

The President's statement—both as to Soviet H-Bomb progress and silencing official tongues—drew mixed comment from members of Congress.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass) said Congress "must not be stampeded into spending vast sums" for national defense in the light of the new analysis of Soviet weapons.

"That's another way to ruin, too," Martin said. "It could wreck the fiscal situation of the country. We must keep our perspective and not get too excited until we have all the facts."

Asked whether Eisenhower's statement might change the tax picture when Congress returns in January, Martin told newsmen:

"Security, of course, comes first. But for anything I know, we can have security and still fulfill our promise for expiration of the excess profits tax and reduction of the individual income tax next January."

Eisenhower did not predict bigger defense outlays. The administration will try to find ways, he said, of adjusting the nation's defenses to the new kind of threat; therefore, there will not necessarily be an increase in the gross sums requested—there might be shifts in priorities of the programs on which the money is spent.

FBI Reports Discrepancies In Hall's Kidnaping Story, Hinting Marsh Not Involved

Kansas City (AP) — The government geared last night for a nationwide hunt for mystery man Thomas Marsh in the Bobby Greenlease kidnap-slaying but delayed final action.

Official explanation was that although Marsh has been formally charged with murder of the 6-year-old child at St. Joseph, Mo., the FBI has not resolved discrepancies in statements by Carl Austin Hall.

Hall, 34, is the confessed mastermind of the $600,000 ransom plot that led to death for the little son of multi-millionaire Robert C. Greenlease and to capture of Hall and a woman companion, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41.

Serious doubt was expressed by some authorities that Hall and Mrs. Heady had an accomplice.

But the FBI in Kansas City late yesterday filed information with U. S. Commissioner Charles A. Thompson that Marsh has fled across state lines to avoid prosecution on the Missouri murder charge and Thompson issued a warrant for Marsh's arrest.

In Washington, the FBI emphasized that despite this action, it is holding up the usual nationwide alert for such a fugitive.

Hall blamed Marsh for Bobby's death. But the question the FBI wants answered apparently are: Did Hall invent the story of Marsh's alleged participating in the kidnap-killing, or did Marsh actually have some hand in it, and—possibly—is Marsh now dead?

In view of these circumstances, the FBI said it is not advising local police authorities throughout the nation of the federal complaint filed against Marsh, nor is it issuing at this time the coast-to-coast "wanted" circulars which usually accompany a nationwide manhunt.

The unlawful flight complaint filed here, however, lays the groundwork for a national search, if subsequent developments warrant this.

Hall and Mrs. Heady are held in St. Louis on $100,000 bonds on federal charges of extortion, but the government said today it would turn them over to Missouri authorities for prosecution, either for murder at St. Joseph or for kidnaping at Kansas City. Both cities are seeking their custody.

Death in the gas chamber is a maximum penalty under Missouri law for either crime.

The government added another link in the case by putting the finger on Mrs. Heady as a principal in collecting the fabulous ransom.

The FBI said it had found the woman's fingerprints on ransom extortion papers, showing that she had handled them.

Hall has insisted Mrs. Heady was duped into taking part in the abduction, contending she was unaware of it at the start.

Even as the Hall story came under close scrutiny, Atty. Gen. Brownell announced at Washington the couple would be turned over to the state for prosecution.

Charges of extortion have been filed by federal authorities. The state has filed first degree murder charges at St. Joseph, Mo., where the boy's body was unearthed from a shallow grave. State kidnaping charges are pending here against the couple.

Brownell's announcement indicates the FBI has failed to establish the abductors crossed any state lines. Extortion carries only a maximum sentence of 20 years imprisonment, a $5,000 fine or both.

Bobby's body was dug from a lime-filled grave in the backyard of Mrs. Heady's home in St. Joseph Wednesday.

Marsh Believed Seen In Ohio

Wheeling, W. Va., (AP)—All available state troopers in the Northern Panhandle were pressed into service yesterday after police received a tip that a man answering the description of Thomas John Marsh was seen in Ohio.

Marsh, 37, is wanted in the kidnaping slaying of Bobby Greenlease.

Mrs. Earl Coffield, a clerk in a grocery store near St. Clairsville, Ohio, 13 miles west of here, told St. Clairsville Traffic Officer Tom Minder a man resembling Marsh stopped in her store at about 10:30 a. m.

She said he was traveling with an auburn haired woman in a light gray car bearing Missouri license plates.

Explanations To Prisoners Start Monday

Panmunjom, Friday, (AP)—The U. N. Command said today a building speed-up may make it possible to start "explanations" to balky prisoners of war on Monday.

Brig. Gen A. L. Hamblen, Allied commander for prisoner affairs, wrote the Neutral Nations Repatriations Commission that the Allies with the help of India guard troops can cut from seven to five days, the time required for building a temporary shelter in which Communists will give their "explanations" to 22,500 Chinese and North Korean POWs refusing to go home.

The commission yesterday indirectly accused the U. N. Command of stalling Red explanation efforts. It asked the command to build an explanation center within four days or let the Communists do it. Hamblen turned down that proposal, and also an offer of Communist help.

But Hamblen did agree to put construction work on the temporary shelter on a 24-hour basis and accepted "your kind offer of assistance from troops of the Indian custodial force" which guards the POWs in the neutral zone.

J. P. Mitchell To Succeed Martin Durkin

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower yesterday, picked a Republican businessman, genial, 52-year old James P. Mitchell, as his new secretary of labor.

The former New York City department store executive will take his oath of office this morning in Eisenhower's office and then attend his first Cabinet meeting.

Eisenhower told his news conference that Mitchell is a man of extraordinary ability and great character with long experience in labor relations problems. His home is in Spring Lake, N. J.

Mitchell's selection was greeted with varying comment. Some Democrats and union leaders expressed disappointment that a man from union ranks was not chosen. But the appointment was generally hailed as a good one, even by CIO President Walter Reuther.

Mitchell, an assistant secretary of the Army with a decade of experience in government jobs, declined for the present to express any opinions on the hot Taft-Hartley law controversy. He told reporters he intends to do "the best possible job for the people of the United States."

Mitchell will succeed Martin P. Durkin, Democrat and president of the AFL Plumbers Union, who quit Sept. 10 with a charge that the White House reneged on an agreement to recommend to Congress a series of amendments to the T-H law, many of them favorable to unions.

Besides announcing Mitchell's appointment, Eisenhower accepted the resignation of Lloyd A. Mashburn, who served as labor undersecretary under Durkin. Mashburn said he wanted to leave the government to become assistant general president of the AFL Lathers Union.

This leaves the Labor Department virtually stripped of union men in top jobs. The sole exception is Assistant Secretary Harrison Hobart, who was assistant grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, a union affiliated with neither the AFL nor CIO.

There was no immediate comment on Mitchell's appointment from AFL President George Meany. But Al Hayes, an AFL vice president and head of the AFL Machinists Union, called the selection "incredible." This was the same adjective the late Sen. Taft of Ohio used to describe Durkin's appointment last winter.

Mitchell, a Catholic, served as industrial relations director for Macy's department store, and later as vice president in charge of labor relations for Bloomingdale's, another large New York City department store.

Mitchell told reporters he never was a labor union member but had been dealing in labor relations on and off since 1932. He said he had dealt with many top labor leaders through the years and thought he got along with them "very well."

Eden Reveals West Plans New Peace Bid To Russia

Margate, England, (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said yesterday the West plans a new approach to Russia for world peace based on guarantees against aggression.

"I think something can be worked out," Eden told a Conservative party conference here.

He also offered Russia Big Four talks on any level in the hope of easing the cold war stalemate.

He suggested that Britons keep clearly in mind that Russia's negative attitude rather than American policies have blocked the way to big power talks.

Returning to the direction of British foreign affairs after an illness and enforced absence since April, Eden made this significant reference to the West's diplomatic plans:

"Our policy has not changed. I am glad to restate it here. Our first aim is to maintain the unity and strength of the Western alliance, which have been mainly responsible for any softening there may have been in Soviet intransigence.

"Secondly, we are determined to keep our alliance defensive in character, to indulge in no provocation and to take advantage of any and every opportunity which may arise for settling difficulties and solving disputes."

Man Linked To Killings On Turnpike

Cleveland, (AP)—Cleveland police issued a two-state pickup alarm yesterday for a 25-year-old man wanted for questioning in the recent Pennsylvania Turnpike shootings.

Homicide Capt. David E. Kerr identified the man as John Wesley Wable, who was freed last March from his job in an east side electrical plant here. He said Wable had not been charged, but warned he might be "armed and dangerous."

Two men were killed in the turnpike shootings and a third was wounded. All three shootings occurred last July. .

The pickup order to Ohio and Pennsylvania police went out after police had questioned a 22-year-old blonde they said was Wable's girl friend. Kerr said the girl, later released, linked Wable to a gun turned over to police by her stepfather, and to a pocket watch found in a pawn shop.

The watch fitted the description of one taken from the clothing of truck driver John K. Shepard, shot and seriously wounded July 31 near Lisbon, Ohio. And the gun, a .765 German-made revolver, was similar to one used in the turnpike slayings, Kerr said.

Group Of B-36s Fly To Morocco

Casablanca, French Morocco, (AP)—A group of the U.S. Air Force's huge B-36 strategic bombers arrived at the U.S. Air Force base at Nouaceur in Morocco yesterday after a flight from Fort Worth, Tex. The flight, led by Col. George T. Cadwell, commander of the 7th Bomber Wing, will return to Fort Worth in 10 days.

Hundreds View Fire Exercise

Hundreds of residents lined Ann St., and crowded Fifth St. bridge in Stroudsburg last night to watch tons of water cascade from Stroudsburg Fire Co. hoses.

It was part of the fire department's Fire Prevention Week demonstration.

Ann St. was blocked off throughout the demonstration, which lasted from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

All types of streams used in fire-fighting were demonstrated. There were fog blankets, heavy streams from the 2.5-inch lines and light ones from the one-inch hoses.

The climax of the demonstration was operation of a hose line from the old steamer.

Operating the steamer were Fred Miller and Henry Russell. Handling the nozzle were Levi Marsh, former member of Phoenix Co. who retired after 39 years service, and Elmer (Shad) Walton, charter member of Chemical Co. and now its president.

Dewey Moves To Clean Up Racing Scandal

New York, (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey moved yesterday to clean up scandals in New York's 250 million dollar a year harness racing operations by appointing an investigating commission to "turn harness racing upside down."

The three-man commission is charged primarily with probing into stock ownership and other financial interests of every trotting association in the state.

Dewey said the commissioners will try to learn whether any public officials obtained stock free or at "inadequate" prices and whether gangsters hold any financial interest in the associations.

They will study hiring practices and the possibility of kickbacks, extortion and coercion being involved.

Astor Marries Mrs. Marshall

Bar Harbor, Me. (AP) — Vincent Astor, retired Navy reserve captain, and Mrs. Charles H. Marshall were married yesterday at the residence here of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer.

Astor and Mrs. Marshall, daughter of a former Marine Corps commandant, were married by Rev. James Lancaster, minister of the Bar Harbor Congregational church.

Truman Raps Ike Policies

St. Louis, (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman last night expressed concern over the Eisenhower administration's policies toward counteracting a depression.

Here to receive the $1,000 annual Sidney Hillman Foundation Public Service Award, Truman said in a speech at a dinner in his honor the "Old Guard of reactionaries" has gained new strength and is striving mightily to overturn many constructive achievements of recent years.

"We should resist their efforts with all our might," he said, "because our country today is too strong, too full of opportunity and hope, to let it be ruined by a set of dismal blockheads who want to return to the days of McKinley."

Truman said he doesn't think such an attitude will prevail and that he is much more worried about those in government who want to "stand still."

U.S. Presses Reds To Act

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The United States called on Communist China and North Korea yesterday to say quickly whether they intend to take part in a Korean peace conference and when they will be ready.

"Our side is prepared to negotiate in all reasonableness and good faith," a U.S. note said. "If your side has any intention of carrying out the recommendation contained in the armistice agreement and to participate in a Korean political conference looking toward a peaceful settlement of the Korean question and the withdrawal of foreign forces from Korea, etc., there can be no reason for your side to refuse to get on with the conference."

The United States concluded with a request that the Reds give an early answer. The Reds ignored three previous notes from the U.S. trying to get the conference on the way before the Oct. 28 deadline recommended in the Korean armistice agreement.

Yesterday's note informed the Reds officially that the U.N. Assembly resolution of Aug. 28 limiting the peace conference to the belligerents, plus Russia if invited by the Communists, stands without change despite efforts to overturn it.

Americans Are Consciously Searching For Solutions

by Stanley High

(A senior editor of the Reader's Digest, Mr. High was on President Eisenhower's staff during the 1952 campaign. He has written numerous books.)

The fact that so much of the news about ourselves and America is on the unhealthy side proves, among other things the limitations of journalism.

Things no doubt are as bad as the papers tell us.

Patriotism generally is in disrepute, as something identical with Chauvinism. Moral standards have been widely reduced to the level of the lowest common denominator of conduct.

Mental health has become the nation's biggest health problem; psychiatrists its busiest doctors. Alcoholism, a disease of escape, is probably our biggest social problem. Next perhaps is juvenile delinquency and after that divorce—both most often due to one kind or another of instability.

"Everybody," says a news magazine, "is creating." A Senate committee recently made a full-scale inquiry into the state of public morals and came up with a proposal for a national code of conduct—since being visibly repelled by the ancient codes, it is presumed that we would find something modern in that line more attractive.

All these things, in one way or another, we are daily told.

But there are some things the papers don't tell: Not with the same spread and gusto. One of those things is that, in a mess though we are, we don't like it. A second is that, although individually we can't do much about

State Issues Permits To Over 8,000

Harrisburg, (AP)—More than 8,000 permits have been issued for the special bow-and-arrow deer hunting season which opens Monday morning in Pennsylvania, a spokesman for the Department of Revenue said yesterday.

Many women and teenagers were among those who applied for permission to join in the two-week hunt which ends Saturday, Oct. 24, department records showed.

Approximately 8,500 special permits were issued last year. The total number of permits sold this year is expected to top that mark, according to the department spokesman.

The permits cost $2 in addition to $3.15 which must be paid for a regular hunting license. Hunting will be permitted each day between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. except Sunday, Oct. 18.

The archer's hunt is the first of three scheduled for this fall. The second is the regular two-week buck season, Nov. 30-Dec. 12.

There will be a special antlerless season Dec. 14-15.

Thomas A. Forbes, Camp Hill, a member of the Pennsylvania Archery Association, attributed the expected increase in bow-and-arrow deer hunters to "education."

"The association has succeeded in enlightening the public to the benefits of archery from the standpoint of a good, clean sport," he said.

Legal game for the special season includes male deer with two or more points to one antler and deer with antlers three or more inches long even though they have no points.

Jail Beckons Again After Brief Freedom

William Kelly, 45, got out of county jail after serving 30 days for drunkenness.

He went to East Stroudsburg, celebrated his release, got arrested for drunkenness.

In answer to a plea for leniency, Justice of the Peace Marshall H. Neyhart continued the case to a later date on condition Kelly went to work and stayed sober.

Turned loose, Kelly went to Stroudsburg and celebrated. He was arrested for drunkenness.

Burgess Hal H. Harris sentenced Kelley to 30 days in jail.

Yesterday he was serving the sentence.

Denny Urges Firm Dealings With Russians

America's most famous open-forum moderator, George V. Denny, urged this nation to be firm in its dealings with Russia and return to a faith in God last night.

Addressing members of Dutch Treat Club in the Penn-Stroud Hotel, Denny, who has been moderator of "America's Town Meeting of the Air" for years, said a "turn again to God . . . was the only hope we (America) has."

Denny, who told his audience he had been "sitting behind some of the greatest brains in the world . . . for 25 years . . .", said present Russian tactics were of a "divide and conquer" nature.

The Russians, he said, "will use the United Nations as a means of getting Western European nations to vote with them for the admission of Communist China to the UN. This would align those nations with Russia."

If, as a result of such an action (which the U. S. would veto), the U. S. should follow action proposed by Sen. William Knowland, Calif., Senate majority leader, and "pull out of the UN" the result would be to put America "in a bad light as poor sportsmen" to the rest of the world, Denny said.

In response to a question from the floor ("Why do you think Great Britain is so intent on recognizing Red China?" Denny said: "I can answer that in one word—trade."

At another point Denny was asked his view on the recent agreement between Franco Spain and the U. S. permitting building of U. S. air fields in that nation. Wasn't Spain a totalitarian government, the questioner wanted to know.

"Yes," said Denny, it was. "But it doesn't threaten us."

Denny said he was "astonished" that a Democratic candidate for the presidency should "come back (from a world tour) and ask us to reach agreement with these people (the Russians) . . . because their agreements" are meaningless. He referred to Adlai Stevenson.

The speaker also said that America should "think" about all questions before it on the international level and should use every method short of "preventive war" to reach a solution.

Jacob C. Wachtman Resigns As Executive Secretary Of C. Of C. Vacation Bureau

Resignation of Jacob C. Wachtman, Stokes Mill Road, as executive secretary of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce and the Vacation Bureau was reported last night.

Spot checks with several members of both organizations indicated that the report was true.

Dale H. Learn, Chamber president, told a reporter "I have received the letter of resignation."

Learn said he did not believe he "should make a statement" at the present time.

Mr. Learn said necessary action on Wachtman's letter of resignation would be taken by a "meeting of the executive committee of the Chamber at its next meeting" early next week.

Wachtman has served in the executive secretary position more than a year and a half. He succeeded William V. Nixon who resigned to accept a position as assistant to the president of Muhlenberg College in Allentown.

Turnpike Speed

The Pennsylvania Turnpike has hung up another speed record.

Not the kind the safety council people are worried about, but the kind that makes the members of the turnpike commission sit back and smile, and start planning for an even better roadway and more extensions.

For the bumper earnings of the "dream highway" have so exceeded the estimates that the bond redemption program is seven years ahead of schedule, and with a record gross revenue of more than $21 million for the fiscal year ending last May 31, Chairman T. J. Evans is confident the commission will meet all roadbuilding debts by 1961.

This history of the turnpike revenues is commensurate with that of the New Jersey Turnpike, which discovered in the first year of operation that its traffic and thus its revenue was many years ahead of the predictions.

Since the Pennsylvania Turnpike opened in 1940 more than 50 millions of vehicles have paid tolls as they traveled over the wonderful highway, the total revenue exceeding $85 million.

Certainly these figures refute the contention of so many critics who saw no good in a return to the toll road system, for not only did Pennsylvania show the way in this state but indicated a path now being followed by many other states.

As we have said many times, Pennsylvania is proud of its turnpike, even as it recognizes certain faults and deficiencies in it. And Pennsylvania is proud to learn that the record revenue from toll collections will encourage further extensions to all sections of the state, extensions which will obviously pay for themselves.

Dock Walkout Ends

The week-long strike of dock workers on the East Coast waterfronts is over, thanks to President Eisenhower's prompt invoking of the Taft-Hartley Law injunction provisions, and it must be presumed that next week a permanent injunction will be granted thus extending the "cooling-off" period to the full 80 days.

Just how many millions of dollars have been lost in every phase of American industry cannot be established, but certainly the loss for even such a short period of the strike which began last Wednesday is not inconsiderable, to say nothing of the inconveniences suffered by so many.

It is, in a sense, ironic that the Communist-infested International Longshoremen's Association which has just been expelled from the American Federation of Labor should have been the union to call this strike. An orphaned outfit, it will fight tooth and nail to maintain its position in the face of the AFL avowed intention to organize a substitute union to take its place.

There must be many workers in the discredited ILA who have had more than enough of the lawless operation of that organization by hoodlums who consider themselves above the law and whose only interest in leadership is self-enrichment.

We hope to see a new, Communist-free organization arise at dockside where shipping essential to our well-being, in truth, to the very existence of our nation is handled daily.

It is up to the states of New York and New Jersey especially, as well as the federal government, to take such firm steps as will remove the cancerous growth eating away at the very foundations of the shipping along our busy coast.

THE PERSUADER

Robert S. Allen Reports

Stassen Has Inside Track For Secretary Of Labor

Washington — Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen has the inside track to be the new Secretary of Labor.

Authority for that is President Eisenhower himself.

He said it personally to Stassen.

The occasion was a private talk in which the President informed Stassen of the as-yet-unannounced decision that his agency is slated for dismembering under the new budget, now in preparation.

The President explained he proposes to make military aid, the major activity of the Foreign Operations Agency, which Stassen heads, part of the next defense budget and thus place it under the jurisdiction of Secretary Charles Wilson. Similarly, the Point Four program, which Stassen also administers, would be returned to State Department control.

Effect of these contemplated shifts will be to abolish Stassen's agency and leave him without a job.

However, the President hastened to assure the one-time Minnesota Governor that he will continue to be a member of the Administration's "team." It was at this point that the vacant cabinet seat was brought into the discussion by Stassen!

According to White House insiders, he suggested his availability for the Labor post.

While Governor, Stassen made national news by putting through a state law that imposed important restrictions on the New Deal's Wagner Labor Act. Also, following President Eisenhower's election, Stassen was widely mentioned as a possibility for Labor Secretary.

The Minnesotean has never made any secret of his eagerness to be in the cabinet. The President, reputedly, responded cordially to Stassen's reference to the Labor vacancy.

"You are now the No. 1 candidate for the appointment," the President is credited with saying. "I think you're just the man I'm looking for."

Short-lived—The junking of the Foreign Operations Agency will set a new record.

It will be the shortest-lived independent bureau in the history of the government.

FOA was created by Congress in the spring of this year at the request of President Eisenhower for the purpose of reshuffling the handling of the various foreign assistance programs. They were taken out of the hands of the State Department and Pentagon and centralized under a single head in the new agency.

But the President now plans to dismantle this creation and to redistribute the aid program to the Departments that originally ran them—in the Truman regime.

Hand-in-glove with this unannounced decision is the intention to slash foreign aid spending to $2,500,000,000, approximately one-half of the present fund. This figure is not final, but it's the goal of Budget Director Joseph Dodge.

The former Detroit banker is in charge of the new backstage reorganization of the foreign programs.

He disclosed this significant development in a joint letter to Secretary of State Dulles and Defense Secretary Wilson, as follows:

"The President has suggested that it would be desirable to appropriate military assistance funds directly to the Defense Department beginning in fiscal year 1955 . . . This suggests the possibility of a variety of adjustments in organization, administration relationships, authorizing legislation and budget programming and execution. The President has asked that I obtain the detailed reactions and recommendations of the Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense and Director of the Foreign Operations Agency . . ."

Dodge included a list of specific questions he wanted answered regarding the contemplated reorganization, one of the most interesting being, "Is the establishment of a Department of Foreign Affairs (including both policy and operations) desirable at this time? What effect would the various proposals have on the President and Secretary of State, and their control over foreign policy and the flexibility and implementation of policy?"

Paid Up — Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield has decided not to contest an unannounced ruling by the Internal Revenue Bureau that he owes the government more than $100,000 in income taxes.

The Michigander is paying the claim.

Both he and the Revenue Bureau refuse to discuss the matter, but official word of his decision has been received by the Senate Finance Committee, which has jurisdiction over tax matters. Members of this powerful Committee were keeping a close scrutiny of the handling of this case.

As disclosed by this column last May, no impropriety was involved in the matter.

It was entirely a case of a dispute over capital gains claimed by Summerfield which the Revenue Bureau, after lengthy deliberations, finally rejected. Such controversies are common. Only unusual feature in this instance was that a cabinet member was involved. However, the argument started long before Summerfield expected to become Postmaster General under President Eisenhower.

The first paint color actually to be compounded from inorganic substances was the so-called "Egyptian blue" which was sold as early as 3000 B.C.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Not Every Labor Leader Owns A Party But He Can Own Top Political Leaders

I was talking to a furrier about his union. It is a Communist-dominated union, but this particular furrier is a decent citizen, devoutly religious, living quietly with his family and minding his own business.

So I asked him why he and people like him tolerate the Red leadership in his union.

"Read the papers and you will understand everything," he replied.

"All right," I said, "so I'll read the papers and what do they show me? They show me that your union bosses are under indictment for conspiracy against our country, they are being deported . . ."

He interrupted:

"That ain't what I'm talking about. I'm talking about Joe Fay and Joe Ryan and labor leaders like that who rob the worker, who take kickbacks, who are themselves capitalists, owning businesses for which we have to work. They tie up with the politicians. And this I want to tell you, Joe Fay ain't no exception. There are plenty of Joe Fays and only he is in prison.

"Maybe the Reds let us take home our pay-checks and don't steal from the welfare fund because they want us to keep our mouths shut when they pass resolutions denying that the Rosenbergs were spies. So I don't complain no matter what I think because these union bosses don't steal my wages."

I thought a good deal about this conversation, which I assure you is authentic. The combination of labor racketeers and politicians has done the labor movement great harm and has helped the Communists. It took the American Federation of Labor two decades to get rid of Joe Ryan's longshoremen's union in New York, a union which has been wrecking this metropolis. It became a sanctuary for criminals and ex-jailbirds and the officers of the American Federation of Labor knew it.

There never was any secret about the combination that Ryan operated: it consisted of murderers, thieves, labor leaders, politicians and certain businessmen engaged in shipping who found it better business to pay off than to keep the port clean. Pilferage became a right, exercised by the union bosses. Investigations disclosed the facts; newspapermen won prizes disclosing the truth; but Ryan held his job and the American Federation of Labor avoided interfering in the internal affairs of a union.

Now that Joe Ryan and his union have been expelled from the American Federation of Labor, a strike has been called; the President has invoked the Taft-Hartley Law and the Attorney General got an injunction; Governor Dewey appealed to the shippers not to sign a new contract with Ryan; and the great fear is that if an election were held, he might win and his union would be certified by the National Labor Relations Board.

These crooked labor leaders always complain about the Taft-Hartley Law and want Congress to abolish it because while the Taft-Hartley Law has not driven them out of business, it has put limitations upon them which could be used by the Government and in the case of the Ryan union have only been resorted to after scandals have been made public by the newspapers. The same goes for Joe Fay.

What gives these crooked men so much power? The answer is, money. They control enormous treasuries, running into the millions of dollars and while nowadays they do generally give some kind of financial report, they can cover their contributions to politicians as "educational expense" or "contingency funds," which they can keep secret under existing laws. Their argument for secrecy is that were they to make such information public, the enemies of labor would have an advantage.

In these lean years of high income taxes, politicians, needing campaign money, especially what is called "under-the-table" money, paid in cash and never reported no matter what the law requires, have discovered in the unions a reservoir of cash which can be tapped for favors promised and performed.

After all, David Dubinsky, who is a good labor leader, owns a political party in New York City which his union supports out of its treasury. He is running his own candidate for Mayor of New York City and, according to his press agent, has given Harry Truman a going-over because the ex-President spoke favorably of another candidate.

Not every labor leader can own a political party but he can own distinguished political leaders.

On Broadway

Arthur Brown, the Giant rooter, entertained Joe DiMaggio and Lefty O'Doul with baseball yarns the other night. Bill Klem, he said, was the one umpire with a sensayuma. One of the Giants, who had swung and missed the first two strikes, squawked when Klem called him out on the third. The batter groaned: "Oh, Bill! You sure missed that one!"

"You missed the first two, didn'tcha?" barked Klem. "Well, then get the hellouttahere!"

Frank Nugent's crack about a swell-headed ham: "His head expanded like Sophie Tucker unzipping her girdle."

Some of the Brooklyn Dodgers were gabbing about the way Old Age catches up to ballplayers. One said it first shows in your eyes. Another said you notice it first in your legs.

"Waite Hoyt summed it up best," another recalled. "He said you first notice it in your writeups."

Art Arthur's capsule criticism of critics: The pigeons on the statue.

That recalls critic George Jean Nathan's grouch: "Hollywood impresses me as ten million dollars worth of intricate and highly ingenious machinery functioning elaborately to put skin on baloney."

Then there was the time Mr. Nathan was in a heated discussion (during the war) at the Cub and Mr. Billingsley came in.

"What's Mr. Nathan so excited about?" he asked a waiter.

"He's talking about the war," explained the waiter, "and I'm afraid Mr. Nathan doesn't seem to like it."

All of Farouk's wealth in Egypt has been taken away from him.

One of those bores sat down at a table full of newspaper people and proceeded to tell one of them how to write her movie reviews.

"I'll never remember anything you are saying," she interrupted.

"Why?" persisted the pest. "Is your memory that bad?"

"My memory is so terrible," was the squelch, "that I cannot remember anyone here having invited you to join us!"

This political quip is making the rounds of Washington. A deaf man entered a church and asked his neighbor: "Who's the new man in the front pew?"

"He's the new deacon."

"The New Dealer?"

"He's a son of a bishop."

"Well," was the reply, "they all are."

From a sports page: "Dizzy and Paul Dean, who won three each in the '34 Series . . ."

Best six out of seven?

"Dear WW," writes Guy Bolton, one of Broadway's top-flighters when the Big Street was The Great White Way. "Plum Wodehouse and I are sending you an advance copy of a book that tells of our hits and misses and that dates back to a day when you were very young and we were not so very old.

"We send you the very first copy because you, more than anyone alive, are an authority on the Broadway of yesterday as well as today. You knew as friends so many of those who were ours. Kern, Gershwin, Ziggy, Dillingham, Goetz, Belasco, not forgetting Marilyn Miller, Mary Eaton and Gertrude Lawrence. The book is called 'Bring On The Girls.' Anyway, we trust it will amuse you."

I like it already.

News Item: "Ireland has more bachelors and old maids than any other country."

Then what good's their Blarney?

Orson Welles the author-director-star was at a party in London where the gals were acting silly. "Too bad you don't like us," one sarcasm'd, "but Mr. Welles you are just not one of us."

"On the contrary," niftied Orson, "it's just that ALL of you—are not ONE of me."

One of the drama reviewers was buttonholed in the Algonquin by a novice who urged him to look at his script. The critic skipped over the first three pages and handed it back. "I see you don't like it," sighed the stranger. "What would you say it needs?"

"Perfume," was the Ouch.

Charlie Chaplin's lament: "You spend half your life trying to get the crowds and the other half trying to get away from them."

H. V. Kaltenborn's wrist-slap for those who complain about commentators getting their opinions into their news analysis. "The assumption that a news commentator should never inject his feelings or opinions is where I disagree. It is humanly impossible. After all, commentators are not intellectual eunuchs!"

The Once Over

DESCENT BY BATHYSPHERE

Frisby Fozzle, our special correspondent with the Piccards in their world-breaking descent into the oceanic depths, sends us stirring details of the event in the Tyrrhenian Sea. "We found no trace of the New York Giants, the balanced budget, any Soviet record of trustworthiness, Henry Wallace or the dollar dinner," he reports, "but otherwise the exploit was an amazing success."

"How many more descents will Professor Piccard make?" we asked.

"He will never yield until he has gone deep enough to find a trace of the 35-cent shrimp cocktail, the 25-cent haircut and a bill for $2 from a doctor for a house visit," declared Mr. Foozle, who gave a stenographic report of the dialogue between Professor Piccard and his son Jacques during the Bathysphere trip:

Jacque: How deep are we now, father?

Professor: We must be down pretty far. I have just seen a genuine full-quart bottle, an old fashioned glass bearing the inscription "The Largest Glass of Beer In Town for Five Cents," and floating past at this moment is what seems to be a dollar watch.

Jacques: Any trace of a unbroken international treaty?

Professor: Not so fast, my boy! We are not down that deep yet.

Jacques: I think I just saw a derby hat, a celluloid collar, a clay pipe, a mustache cup and an old newspaper bearing an advertisement reading, "For Sale: Eight-room House, $5,200, easy terms."

Professor: If you did we are down deeper than I anticipated. I must warn you that a depth of a mile, one is apt to have hallucinations.

Jacques (after an interval): How deep are we now?

Professor: I just detected an actor whose voice can be heard beyond the third row, a chicken pie with chicken in it, a five-cent phone booth and a statement from a responsible statesman urging thrift. Boy, are we getting results!

Jacques: Look out the starboard side, dad! . . . I see what seems like an old-fashioned linen restaurant napkin, a nickel cigar, a cocktail glass big enough to be seen by the naked eye and a kept pledge to cut taxes.

Professor: We're certainly down almost two miles then.

Jacques: Any sign of a fifty-cent world series bleacher ticket, the allied list of aims in the last world war or a free-lunch counter, popper?

Professor: Boy, when we get down that deep we'll be really performing!

"Porterhouse" won the recent $117,500 Futurity . . . That's about the right sum in connection with a good meat order these days . . . "Fisherman," one of the favorites, was ninth . . . Lucille Ball and "I Love Lucy" are back of TV and Lucille is reported so nervous about signing anything that she won't even sign a sign-off . . . Judge Carroll C. Hincks, just named to the U. S. Court of Appeals, is a Massachusetts boy who went to Yale, stayed there after his graduation, and has been there ever since . . . Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

My sincere thanks go to Dr. John Henderson, long-time a surgeon at New York's Post-Graduate Hospital, but now medical director of one of the country's largest bandage-and-gauze manufacturing outfits, for the interview he has given to a reporter.

I hope that every American husband will cut this column out, so whenever his wife wants him to do things around the house that he hates to do, he can show it to her and go back to his newspaper or television.

By the same token, SHE can also show it to HIM in case he wants to monkey around with tools or electric appliances or saws or hammers. Any of which occupations or hobbies can get a man into a lot of trouble.

By the way, I want to ask the country's physicians please to stop telling the world that a man needn't take it easy after he has had a heart attack.

I had one six years ago, and ever since I have gotten out of all kinds of work, such as washing dishes or carrying trunks up to the attic.

It used to be the accepted theory that a fellow who once suffered a coronary attack, no matter how mild, must forever after be cuddled and cared for like a baby.

But now the doctors seem to have discovered that that isn't necessary at all, and thus they have made entirely uncalled for inroads into our leisure and dolce far niente (which means really the same thing but sounds much more pretentious).

Well, this Dr. Henderson told the reporter that last year 9,600,000 Americans were injured and 96,000 were killed in home accidents. Some of them were women and children, but the great majority were men.

"Men get into more trouble than any other sex" or something of the sort, the doctor said.

"They are so confident they can repair anything, cook anything, do anything. A little knowledge is a dangerous thing. And it's the men who have it."

So it's up to the wives to see to it that their husbands do as little work around the house as possible in order that they won't become just accident statistics.

It's up to the wives to see to it that their spouses don't drink before taking a bath; that they don't put pennies in fuse boxes; that they don't play around with gasoline-driven equipment — and that they don't be so gosh darn confident that they are masters of all they survey.

Bedroom accidents account for 26.7 per cent of all the domestic mishaps.

Among the most prevalent ones are those that happen when men try to reach light switches from the bed. Often they fall out and hurt themselves terrifically. No rubber mats under scatter rugs and no mats in bath tubs cause another large percentage of accidents.

One of the most frequent accidents is caused by men smoking in bed.

Only 11.2 percent of all home accidents happen in the kitchen—which proves that women are much more careful, and know much more about things in general than men.

Excuse me now. My wife called me. Something went wrong with our toaster. I must show her this column.

Try and Stop Me

Oscar Levant, who has made much out of being a surly bird, admits he's a controversial figure, explaining "people either dislike me or hate my guts." Before he discovered there was gold in being repulsive, he made an indifferent living out of playing the piano (which he does superlatively well) and dashing off an occasional "pop" tune ("Lady, Play Your Mandolin" was the most popular). He liked to visit well-heeled friends, and stayed on and on . . . After a month at the home of Playwright George Kaufman, Mrs. K. told him, "I thought the servants were beginning to look at you peculiarly, so I gave them each five dollars and said it was from you." "Five dollars!" snarled Levant, "You should have given each of them at least ten. Do you think I want them to go around saying I'm stingy?"

Your Red Feather Agencies:

Jerry's Story Is Typical Of Those In CAS Files

By Leonard Randolph

Jerry was three and a half years old—a slender, emaciated boy with freckles. He was frightened more than any child Mrs. Jean Albert had ever seen.

Right now Jerry was standing in the small outer office of the Children's Aid Society with his tall, tired father on one side, one of his two younger brothers on the other.

As the family filed in, Mrs. Albert closed the door, sat down behind her desk and began writing down the information for Jerry's "case history."

Like many other trained persons who deal in social problems, Mrs. Albert cares little for the term "case history." It is unemotional, does little to characterize the feeling and torment tied in directly with each example of human suffering.

There was nothing unemofional about Jerry's case. He was caugt in a maze of blind alleys and dead ends.

"My wife and I've been married ten years. We had our first baby eight years ago. He died six months after he was born . . . and we went on for a long time before we had another."

"When Jerry was born we were happy. It seemed like a new beginning for both of us. He was a fine, strong, healthy little boy."

"A year later we had another child—because we don't believe in having just one kid in the family." The father paused for a moment. "Because we didn't believe . . ."

"The baby was just 11 months old when Jerry caught the rickets and went to the hospital. We didn't have much money and I never did understand what that disease was all about . . . But I guess there are lots of things a man don't understand . . ."

"Why, I don't know, but I guess because of the disease, Jerry's body was all twisted out of shape—he's got a crooked foot, like you see, now—and there wasn't anything we could do right away because Louise was pregnant again and we had that to worry about. Our last baby was born last Spring . . ."

Without warning the man's voice choked off, his eyes widening. To Mrs. Albert it seemed as though her desk had suddenly become a wall between them.

It was a long time before the father spoke again.

"This is the part I don't understand. Even more than the disease. I don't understand it. But I guess maybe I'm not the only one."

"In June, Louise got . . . sick. But not the way other people do. Maybe I was dumb—maybe I still am—but I didn't understand at all. I knew she was nervous and upset and she wasn't happy, but I never had any idea . . ." The man's voice trailed off again and was lost in the sudden surge of a passing car.

"On the first nice day we had in August, the two younger kids and I were outside in the backyard. Louise and Jerry were still in the house. At breakfast she said she wasn't feeling good and she had some cleaning up to do in the kitchen. Jerry stayed with her."

"Mickey—that's our next-to-youngest boy—was mixing mud and water and smearing it all over me and Joey. He's the little one. I parked him with the woman upstairs before I came over."

"Right in the middle of the morning . . . all of a sudden I heard Jerry scream inside the house and then he came running out the door yelling something about Louise . . . and I went into the apartment."

"She was layin' on the floor beside the sink with the razor blade still in her right hand . . . and there was a pool of blood all around her . . . arms."

There was a long pause, again. Then the man's voice—lifeless and without color like a fading radio—went on:

"They took Louise away after that. The doctors say she'll have to stay at the hospital a long time."

"I've tried my best to make things go for the kids. But we don't have any people. Louise's parents are both dead and my folks were separated a long time ago."

"I've tried to work things out. But I have to work all the time and there's nobody to take care of the kids and I don't make hardly any money at all . . ."

Under Mrs. Albert's direction, the Children's Aid Society began a thorough investigation of the story behind Jerry and his brothers.

All the father had said was true—and more. The fathed had failed to tell Mrs. Albert that for nearly five years he had been suffering from a severe heart condition making it impossible for him to hold certain jobs which might have brought more money in.

Jerry was lucky—in a way. Mrs. Albert had, on file, a request from a middle-aged farm family for a boy about Jerry's age.

Like other families which volunteer to help the CAS, the farmer and his wife knew they would be only "foster parents" to the child. That was enough for them. They had had children of their own—but these had grown up, left home and married.

To fill a vacuum in their own lives, they agreed to take Jerry into their homes and "raise" him with the constant cooperation of CAS workers and the child's own father.

Jerry had more problems than most children his age. The shock of seeing his mother's near-suicide had left a horrible, indelible impression on his mind.

His body—twisted by rickets—could be healed with the use of orthopedic treatment and braces. Over a period of years, this was accomplished.

But there are no medical braces for the mind. The weapon against fear is patience and kindness.

Jerry's foster parents soon grew accustomed to the fact that the boy's "fright" extended to nearly everything in a normal, routine day.

Since they could not shield the boy from contact with these experiences, they adopted the attitude that familiarity would help to heal a portion of the breach between the boy and the everyday world.

Jerry did not trust anyone. He was terrified by darkness. Sudden noises made him ill.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

DAR Delegates Return From State Convention

With America as the "honor guest," and "Old Glory" as the featured decor, and "Think America" as the theme, the Pennsylvania State Society of the Daughters of American Revolution held a three-day conference at the Hotel William Penn, Pittsburgh.

The delegates from Jacob Stroud Chapter arrived home last night, enthusiastic about the convention and its speakers.

Mrs. Herbert Patterson, state regent, presided at the conference, and the honored guests were Miss Gertrude Carraway of New Bern, N. C., president general, and Mrs. James B. Patton, honorary president general.

There were about 800 delegates representing the 12,888 members in the state.

Miss Carraway sounded the keynote in her opening address on Monday night on "The DAR as a Constructive Voice in Americanism". Like the farmer who spends more time in planting crops than in pulling weeds, she advised the members to spend more time in planting Americanism than in criticizing communism.

Mrs. James B. Patton said that while the DAR has upheld the original purpose of the UN as an organization of soverign nations to preserve peace in the world, "We are opposed to many of the ramifications which have been proposed by the UN and its agencies." She urged the adoption of the Bricker amendment.

"America Faces the World" was the topic of the address by Dr. Solomon B. Freehof at the State Dinner on Tuesday night. Europeans he said cannot understand the mind of the industrialist who is not concerned with increasing capital for the few but in increasing the goods available to everyone.

Communists do not invite us to share the wealth, but to share their poverty, he said.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It begins to seem like a plot. First I get a home permanent for grey hair through the mail, and now a book on "How To Do Better Hair-coloring" complete with my name engraved in gold.

Little did they know how many grey hairs I'd be adding that very night. Some day I'll write a book on "Why Parents Get Old" with a chapter on "God Bless Teachers" and another on "Why They Call Them New York's Finest."

Meanwhile, it was sort of a comfort to be overwhelmed with social news where everything happens as announced, where things proceed according to Roberts Rules of Order, and the only thing that gets lost is somebody's teaspoon at a covered dish supper.

Sort of feel as if social affairs are like a steam locomotive building up steam. Chug—Brownie meetings; Chug—planning session; Chug—Girl Scout Leaders Training; Chug— G. S. Council dinner; Chug-chug-chug Girl Scout Week, and away they go.

You could do the same thing with practically any organization, and the thing is that all these locomotives are steaming full tilt down a one-track road. Grey hair? Wonder I have any hair at all, the way they're stirring up the breeze as they go by.

Jerry's Story Reflects Those In CAS Files

On the way to Stroudsburg, Jerry's foster mother explained to him patiently, that what the dentist might do to him would be "painful" but that it would help do away with the pain in his mouth once it was over.

It was simple enough, this admission. But it was the beginning of a new trust and a different faith for Jerry.

The extraction was a fairly painful one—one of the roots of the tooth was badly twisted. But two days later all the pain was gone—including the older, nagging pain caused by the abscessed root.

Jerry knew, for the first time, that someone had given him the straight truth. And it made a difference.

From that day forward Jerry became more and more dependent upon his foster mother. Each additional trust helped to kill a part of the fear.

Each new day was a new beginning.

Jerry has been with his foster parents eight years now. He has grown into a trusting, helpful young man.

To Mrs. Albert, his foster parents and his "worker", Jerry is a prime example of the value of patience.

Time—contrary to the popular saying—does not heal wounds. Only human understanding can work that "miracle."

The scars of early youth, no matter how deeply they go, can be replaced by healthy, living tissue. And that includes the abstract, impermanent tissue of the mind.

The story you have just read is a true one. Some of the events have been changed and the names are not the same.

Children's Aid Society is one of the ten Red Feather agencies of YOUR Community Chest.

Its work does not end with the advance of childhood. Throughout the lifetime of its charges, the CAS provides money for clothing, board and medical care.

Its service is an indispensable one. Instead of placing Monroe County children in State-operated orphan homes, the CAS helps the county to turn its underprivileged children into responsible adults.

A gift to the Chest means a partial gift to Children's Aid Society.

When the Chest worker calls on YOU—give as much as you possibly can.

Give to serve yourself, your family and your community.

Grimsley Picks Sooners To Down Texas

By Bill Grimsley

New York, (AP)—Football games this week-end promise to be as close as the Scotchman who fried his bacon in Lux to keep it from shrinking.

Also in danger of shrinking is our season's average of .757 based on 100 correct picks out of 132.

But, chin up, let's go:

Oklahoma over Texas: Buddy Leake and the Sooners hit their stride against a Texas team which has a flashy backfield but can't match the rugged Oklahoma line.

California over Pennsylvania: The Golden Bears have found a real sparkplug in quarterback Paul Larson while the stiff schedule begins to tell on the Quakers.

Northwestern over Minnesota: The Wildcats, behind rifler Dick Thomas, are on the move. The Gophers' Paul Giel has yet to get started.

Georgia Tech over Tulane: The Rambling Wreck has scored only six points in the last two games; Tech has too much speed and power to be contained three weeks in a row.

Ohio State over Illinois: John Borton and Bob Watkins, backed by a powerful line and plenty of replacements, have too much punch for the Illini's young team.

Michigan over Iowa: The Hawkeyes have looked formidable in their first two games but Michigan packs more striking power in Ted Kress and Tony Branoff.

UCLA over Wisconsin: The Uclans are potential Rose Bowl material; Wisconsin, despite two victories, is "middle class" in the Big Ten.

Maryland over Georgia: The best air defense is rush-the-passer. The Terrapins have the speedy line to harass Zeke Bratkowski.

Southern Methodist over Missouri: The Mustangs were almost good enough to beat Georgia Tech. Missouri is good, but no Tech.

The others:

Tonight

Houston over Detroit, Miami (Fla.) over Clemson.

Saturday

East—Penn State over Boston U, Villanova over Boston College Sunday, Brown over Rhode Island, Harvard over Colgate, Yale over Columbia, Syracuse over Fordham, Holy Cross over Bucknell, Pittsburg over Nebraska, Princeton over Rutgers, West Virginia over Washington & Lee.

Midwest—Cincinnati over Toledo, Kansas over Colorado, Indiana over Marquette.

South—Vanderbilt over Mississippi, Alabama over Tulsa, Tennessee over Chattanooga, George Washington over Virginia, Louisiana State over Kentucky, North Carolina over Wake Forest.

White Sox General Manager Fails To Pull Biggest Deal Of Career -- Himself To Orioles

Chicago, (AP)—Frank Lane, the high-pressure baseball salesman who traded the once lowly White Sox into pennant contention, yesterday failed to swing his hottest trade yet—himself to the Baltimore Orioles.

General Manager Lane announced that:

"After some deliberation a decision has been reached that I should not enter into any discussion with the Baltimore club in regard to that club's general managership in view of the fact my contract with the White Sox has two more years to run."

Negotiations

This ended two days of mysterious negotiations during which it was reliably reported Lane's eagerness to take over operation of the new Baltimore entry in the American League was firmly squelched by his present employers.

Although the Baltimore Club never publicly announced an offer to Lane, it was learned Lane was promised a fat salary and a chance to own Oriole stock if he could wrangle a release from the White Sox.

East Stroudsburg To Play Morrisville Next Saturday

The big football mystery has been solved. East Stroudsburg High School will tangle with Morrisville High next Saturday, finally and definitely, it was announced last night by Lewis R. Hastie, faculty athletic manager.

Prior to yesterday there was doubt as to whether the football tussle would take place next Friday or Saturday night. There was no difficulty between the two schools, but a Morrisville oversight had placed some doubt on the contest.

The original contract between the two schools was dated Friday, October 16, but Morrisville had operated under the belief that the game was slated for Saturday, October 17.

Request

When Morrisville realized its mistake, it asked East Stroudsburg to change the game to Saturday. The N. Courtland St. school quickly agreed, only to find that it faced a tough transportation problem next Saturday night.

This put further doubt on the game, but all ended well yesterday when East Stroudsburg was able to arrange suitable transportation.

The contest will be played Saturday, October 17, at 8:15 p. m., at Morrisville.

East Stroudsburg's "Pep Band" plans to make the trip as do a large number of fans.

Morrisville is reportedly plagued by the problem of obtaining officials for Friday night football games.

Braves Limit Number Of Season Tickets

Milwaukee, (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves, who set a National League attendance record this year, will sell only 12,000 season tickets for 1954, General Manager John Quinn said yesterday.

"We could sell a lot more," Quinn explained, "but if we did we'd be depriving many people who can't afford to buy tickets for the entire season a chance to see some games. We want to have tickets for those people."

Return

Quinn said that big blocks of seats ordered by industrial concerns, running as high as $35,000, would be returned.

"We know what has happened to baseball and hockey clubs which sold every season ticket available," he said. "They drove away a lot of fans and when the season buyers fell off the attendance dropped, too."

Powell Gives Boxing Lesson

Streak Ends

Thomas brought a string of nine straight knockout victories to Detroit with him for the televised feature, dull most of the way.

Cardinals Name Two Managers

St. Louis (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals yesterday announced the signing of two managers for minor league farm clubs.

Ferrell "Andy" Anderson of Joplin, Mo., who appeared in 18 games as a Cardinal catcher last season, will direct Omaha of the class "A" Western League.

Pony League

Jimmy Brown, onetime Cardinal second baseman, will manage Hamilton, Ont., of the class "D" Pony League. He managed Winston-Salem, N. C., last season.

Dodgers Promote Seven From Farms

Brooklyn (AP) — The Brooklyn baseball club, strengthening for next year, bought seven players from farm club affiliates yesterday and at the same time sold three Dodgers outright to Montreal in the International League.

Sold to Montreal were John Rutherford, righthanded pitcher who played with Fort Worth this past season; lefthanded pitcher Chris Van Cuyk, who finished the season with St. Paul of the American Association, and catcher Dick Teed, who played with Mobile of the Southern Association.

New Faces

Slaters Risk Perfect Mark In Football

Bangor—Bangor High and its quartet of fleet backs tangle with Wilson Borough in possibly the most important Lehigh-Northampton League football contest of the season for both teams, before an almost capacity crowd here at Memorial Park today. Action is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m.

The Slaters will be searching for their fourth straight win of the campaign, second against league opposition, as two of the clubs most likely to succeed this year meet in a major battle.

Bangor will be at full strength for this game, with the exception of Lou Casciano, who is out of action for the remainder of the season with an injured knee.

This is the first time in three weeks that Bangor has been anywhere near grade-A physical shape.

Light Drill

Coach Granville Evans sent his charges through a light drill yesterday as he brought the maroon and white clad squad to a peak for tonight's struggle.

Evans has announced that his starting offensive alignment will feature Duane Miller and Dale Labar at the end posts; Ralph Stenlake and Gerald Dally, tackles; Nick Martucci and Nick Castellucci, guards; Palmer Cotturo, center; Ed Mugavero, quarterback; Jack Finelli, left halfback; Rodney Miller, right halfback, and Mike DeVito, fullback.

Bangor's defensive team will have Walter "Red" Heard and "Bucky" Parsons at end; Dally and Stenlake will remain at the tackles; Ray Heaney, 250 pounds, and Castellucci will handle the guard posts. Cotturo and DeVito will back up the line. Duane Miller will play safety, while Rodney Miller and Mugavero hold down the defensive halfback posts.

Wilson, defending title holder in the Lehigh-Northampton League, will bring a strong team to town, one deep in reserves. The invading squad will be led by Don Price, one of the top passing artists in the Lehigh Valley.

Baseball Trial Delayed One Day

St. Louis, (AP)—A suit by minority stockholders of the St. Louis Browns, who are seeking to block transfer of the club to Baltimore, was postponed yesterday until today.

Motion

Earlier Circuit Judge William B. Flynn had set the trial for 3 p.m. yesterday, and took under advisement a motion for dismissal of part of the suit.

Giovanelli Earns Ring Decision

Every Round

Snider, a native Californian, slugged for a mark of .6271 to .6269 for the sophomore Braves' third baseman—a difference of .002. "Duke" hit for 370 total bases in 590 times at bat and Mathews had 363-for-579, Associated Press statistics revealed yesterday.

Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians took American League honors with a .613 average. The hard-hitting third sacker accounted for 367 total bases in 599 at bats. He led the junior circuit in home runs with 43, also numbering 27 doubles and five triples among his 201 safeties.

Tops Circuit

Mathews, who paced the league in home runs with 47, failed to hit for an extra-base in his last four games. He had 175 hits, which also included 31 doubles and eight triples, in 579 trips.

Brooklyn's Roy Campanella, who slugged .609, was third. Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals fourth with .607.

Gus Zernial, who finished second to Rosen in home runs with 42, also was runnerup in the American League slugging derby. The Philadelphia A's outfielder cracked out 310 total bases in 555 at bats for a .559 mark.

Ted Williams, who rejoined the Boston Red Sox in August, slugged at a .901 pace in 37 games. He had 82 total bases, including six doubles and 13 home runs, in 91 trips.

Junior High Eleven Meets Hackettstown

East Stroudsburg Junior High School will take part in its third football game of the season today when the Cavaliers play host to Hackettstown Junior High, at Memorial Stadium. The game is scheduled to begin at 3:30 p. m.

The Cavaliers will be seeking win number one when they go into action this afternoon. The Eastburg squad has suffered loses at the hands of Whitehall and Lehighton, the former at Memorial Stadium and the latter at Lehighton.

Doubtful

Coach Mike Evans announced last night that he would stick to his usual lineup if possible. The big question mark as of last night was LeRoy LaBar, who has been sidelined by illness. If LaBar is unable to play Carl Smith will move to fullback and Ronald Van Why will open at right halfback.

Kimberly Kid Triumphs

Life of Riley

Sports Editor

We're a day late this week, but I guess it's impossible to skip the troublesome task of picking football winners and losers, a task that has become doubly difficult of late. Last week the column managed to select correctly the result of 45 games, while missing on 18 attempts. A quick check of figures reveals that at the present time the record shows 127 correct predictions and 40 of the wrong variety. A further check of the figures also reveals that this column's average has been reduced to a fading .761.

The local front presents at least one tough guess this weekend. Stroudsburg High will take Pen Argyl into camp tonight and East Stroudsburg will bounce back on the victory wagon with a decision over a vastly improved Lehighton contingent at Memorial Stadium tomorrow night. East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and Shippensburg, both highly regarded in the State Teachers College Conference, clash head-on at Shippensburg tomorrow. A timid nod in favor of ESSTC.

One of the biggest games of the Lehigh-Northampton League season will take place in Bangor tonight, with the Slaters tangling with Wilson Borough. The entire game shapes up as Wilson's big line, rich reserves and the passing arm of Don Price against the fleet-running Bangor backfield. After watching the Slaters in action last week, this scribe will string along with Coach Granville Evans and company tonight. Tonight's winner will have a good start toward the circuit title this year.

On the national scene it looks like Army over Dartmouth, Villanova over Boston College and Penn State to clip Boston University. Brown will nip Rhode Island, Holy Cross will rip Bucknell, Harvard will edge Colgate and Yale will dump Columbia. Navy is a sure thing over Cornell, Syracuse will clip Fordham, Lafayette will shade Muhlenberg and California will knock Penn from the ranks of the undefeated. Pittsburgh will down Nebraska, Princeton won't have much trouble with Rutgers and Cincinnati will run wild over Toledo.

Houston will down Detroit, Drake will get by South Dakota, Ohio State will trip Illinois, Indiana will slide by Marquette and Michigan will crush Iowa. Kansas State appears to be a sure thing over Iowa State, while Kansas tops Colorado and Michigan State defeats Texas Christian. Northwestern rates a slight edge over Minnesota, Southern Methodist will down Missouri and Texas will down Oklahoma, while Oklahoma A. and M. trips Wichita, Duke downs Purdue, Alabama blasts Tulsa and UCLA defeats Wisconsin.

Mississippi State will decision Auburn, Tennessee will crush Chattanooga, VMI will down The Citadel and Miami is too strong for Clemson. North Carolina State will outscore Davidson, Florida will erush Stetson and Furman will upend South Carolina. George Washington will defeat Virginia, Georgia will club Maryland and Georgia Tech will edge Tulane. Louisiana State will clip Kentucky, Vanderbilt will edge Mississippi, North Carolina will edge Wake Forest and VPI will down Richmond. West Virginia will roll over Washington and Lee, Baylor will crush Arkansas and Rice will roll over Hardin-Simmons.

Texas A. and M. will edge Texas Tech, Arizona will trip New Mexico, Wyoming will edge Colorado A. and M., Utah will top Utah State and Denver will down Montana. It looks like Montana State over Colorado State, Washington State over Oregon and Stanford seems to have an edge over Oregon State. College of the Pacific will defeat Hawaii, San Jose State will decision Tempe State and Southern California will take the measure of Washington. Well there it is, another list of predictions and a reminder to stock up on aspirin for this Sunday's weekly headache.

First Division Clubs List Cut Of World Series Money

New York, (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick announced yesterday division of World Series money by the second, third and fourth clubs to finish in the National and American League pennant races.

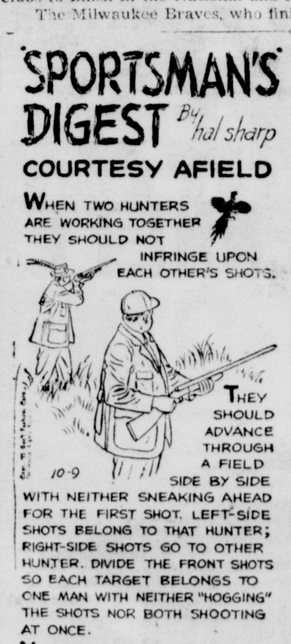
The Milwaukee Braves, who finished second in the National League, voted 34 full shares of $1,481.45 each, and four one-quarter shares. The second place Cleveland Indians of the American League voted 28 full shares of $1,452.27, six two-third shares, two one-half, four one-third, and three one-quarter shares.

White Sox

Thirty-four full shares of $981.92 were voted by the third place Chicago White Sox of the American League. There were three one-third shares.

In the National League, there was a tie for third place between the St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies. The Cardinals voted 24 full shares of $879.50, plus three three-quarter shares, five half shares, and two quarter shares. The Phillies split 30 full shares of $810.16, and voted six one-third shares.

Ted Williams, who returned to finish out the season with the Boston Red Sox, fourth place team in the American League, was voted a full share of $443.17, along with 36 others. The team also voted four half shares.



Women Jockeys Dominate Race

Newmarket, England, (AP)—Eleven horses ran in the Newmarket Town Plate Race yesterday. Ten had lady jockeys. One had a male rider. The male finished 11th.

Winner

The winning jockey was blonde Betty Richards, daughter of Jockey Cliff Richards and niece of Sir Gordon Richards. She rode Chancellor over the four mile Newmarket Heath course to take first prize of $168.

Pirates Sign First Negro

Pittsburgh, (AP)—Curtis Roberts, a Negro rookie, has been purchased by the Pittsburgh Pirates, it was disclosed yesterday.

Infielder

Roberts, 24, a star second baseman for the Denver Bears, is the first Negro ever signed by the Pittsburgh team. A native of Oakland, Calif., he set a postwar Western League record for second basemen with 468 assists. In 1953 he batted .291.

Rosen Signs Sixth Contract

Cleveland, (AP)—Third baseman Al Rosen, who led the American League in home runs and runs-batted-in this year, signed his sixth contract yesterday with the Cleveland Indians.

Raise

Although the Indians followed their usual custom of not disclosing salaries, General Manager "Hank" Greenberg indicated Rosen got a substantial pay raise. It is believed Rosen's new salary will be around $40,000.

Montreal Wins Series

Kansas City (AP) — The Montreal Royals won the Little World Series last night as Hamp Coleman shut out the Kansas City Blues for eight innings and coasted to a 7-2 victory in the fifth game of the series.

Stroudsburg Host To Pen Argyl Foe

Mountaineers Searching For Fourth Victory

Stroudsburg High school will shoot for its fourth straight football victory of the current campaign today, when the Mountaineers play host to Pen Argyl High at Gordon Giffels Field. The kickoff is scheduled to take place at 8 p.m.

The Mountaineers will be at full strength for the first time in two weeks and will be stepping out of the Lehigh Valley League wars for the initial time this season.

Stroudsburg scored circuit victories over Lehighton, 19-6; Emmaus, 32-14, and Palmerton, 13-7, in previous outings.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis announced last night that his Warriors are as near top physical condition as they have been in recent games.

Jack Whittle, out of action recently with a damaged hip, will return to the defensive lineup against Pen Argyl and will back up the line as in the past.

Don Deibler is also scheduled to see action in Stroudsburg's defensive backfield.

Hintze has been hampered by a painful boil of late and if he is unable to play tonight, Newhart will take over the center duties.

Pen Argyl, a member of the Lehigh-Northampton League, will be taking part in its third football outing of the current campaign and will be searching for its second victory.

The green and white clad gridders dropped a 26-0 battle to East Stroudsburg and then bounced back with a 20-14 victory over Catasauqua last Saturday.

Cubs Release Three Coaches

Vacancies

That presumably leaves three new coaches to pick for Phil Cavaretta, Wednesday re-hired by the Cubs as manager for 1954.

The coaching shakeup was announced by Wid Matthews, Cub director of player personnel. Matthews said no decision has been made on possible successors to Root, Davis and Johnson.

Secret Grid Lineup

Robinson Must Put All-Negro Team On Field In Birmingham

Birmingham, (AP)—A police official yesterday said Jackie Robinson's all-stars won't be permitted to play in Birmingham if they use a mixed team of whites and Negroes.

Police Commissioner Eugene Conner first said the team's game with a Negro League outfit here October 18 would be banned, but later explained an all-Negro contest would be all right.

Birmingham has a city ordinance which prohibits "mixed athletic events," Conner pointed out.

No Trouble

An official handling the tour in New York said the Robinson team "will observe such an ordinance if the city law says so"—so there didn't appear to be any obstacle to the contest as scheduled.

Robinson's teams were made up of all-Negro players in the past, so the question hadn't arisen before. This year he has signed several leading white players, including Cleveland's Al Rosen, Detroit's Ralph Branca and Brooklyn's Gil Hodges.

Wrigley Issues Idea For Third Major League

Los Angeles, (AP) — Philip K. Wrigley, who owns major and minor league baseball clubs, thinks the Pacific Coast League should invite the top "minor" clubs in the east to set up a third major league.

Interviewed in New York by Los Angeles newspapermen, the owner of the National League's Chicago Cubs and the Coast League's Los Angeles Angels suggested that instead of a major move toward the west, the Coast League might move east in its third major league aspiration.

Examples

Such minor league cities as Kansas City, Denver, Houston, Dallas or St. Paul-Minneapolis might be interested in such a realignment, Wrigley said in stories published here.

He added that there might even be a present major league club—and he mentioned the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics—which might be lured into the fold.

Wrigley said he plans to offer such a suggestion when the Coast League meets here October 29.

Moore Receives Second Big Chance In Ring

New York (AP) — Terry Moore, who once subbed for a sub and scored an upset, moves back into the domestic fight picture tonight in a familiar role—as a sub.

The stocky, 24-year-old Baltimore Negro replaces lanky Randy Sandy against rock-throwing Willie Troy of Washington at 10 p.m. The tussle will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC) coast to coast.

Illness

Sandy's illness provided Terry with his break and the traveling middleweight hopes to make the most of his opportunity.

Two years ago Moore was called on 24 hours notice to replace Ray Barnes, who had been signed to sub for Dick Wagner against "Chuch" Hunter at the same St. Nicholas Arena. Moore, a nine to five underdog, won a split decision over Hunter.

Commercial "C" League keglers swing into action at Harmon's Recreation today, at 9:15 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys five and six—Cole's Drug Store vs. Regina Hotel.

Association All-Stars Seek Second Victory

Lake Ariel—The Pocono Mountains Association All-Stars, with perhaps the best selection ever having been made by the loop's managers, and a select group from the Wayne County League will engage in their annual post-season classic, their seventh in a series instituted in 1946, at Stourbridge field, Honesdale, Sunday, starting at 2:15 p.m.

The Poconos, who will be master-minded by Manager "Hank" Eotjer, of the pennant-winning Newfoundland Bears, and Harry Sebring, skipper of the post-season titlists, Gouldsboro, will be seeking their second win. And if Sam Curtis, who was rated the league's best as a pitcher by seven of the eight managers, is present, then the Poconos can be rated the favorites. Curtis, a lefty, is a student at Penn State.

Big Guns

Led by first sacker Bill Herring, (.528), and outfielder Steve Ferke and the ex-pro, Jerry Lynn, both of whom hit .599, (the trio finished in that order for batting honors), the Poconos are sure to pack plenty of power and collectively have a batting average of .368.

As always, the two leagues put on a good show and interesting contests as indicated by the results since the inception of the series:

1946—Wayne 11, Pocono 7.
1947—Wayne 7, Pocono 5.
1948—Pocono 5, Wayne 3.
1949—Wayne 4, Pocono 3.
1950—Wayne 5, Pocono 4.
1951—No game, cold weather
1952—Wayne 7, Pocono 3.

Rotary Club Pays Tribute To Dr. Hulbert

Stroudsburg Rotary Club held a memorial service yesterday for the late Dr. G. A. Hulbert of Henryville.

Dr. Hulbert had been a member of the club and during the memorial service Jesse Flory, president, emphasized his services in wise counsel and sound decision to the club and many of its members.

The Red Feather Kids of Community Chest presented their appeal for each agency of the Chest during the meeting.

John N. Gish was program chairman. He introduced H. G. Heller, editor of The Daily Record who introduced a National Newspaper Week program.

A film "The Keystone Idea" dealing with a newspaper editor who closed his plant and went fishing, leaving a community without a newspaper, was shown. The film depicted results and complications of a community without any newspaper—until its readers and users won back its publication.

Americans Searching For Solutions

by Stanley High

the world, we are beginning to try to do something about ourselves.

Under today's unhappy pressures, Americans are doing some salutary appraising. We are beginning to suspect that our lack of faith is not so much an intellectual achievement as the intellectual vogue; that our lack of tingle when the flag goes by is not so much a mark of our maturity as of our underdeveloped imagination; that our synicism, like our liquor, leaves us, by the end of the evening, not sparkling but dull; that in exchange for the absolutes we have got mostly dissolutes.

Out of all this more and more of us seem ready to admit that he have lost something—even though we can't quite identify it; and are consciously searching for something—even though we can't quite describe it.

Perhaps the nearest thing to a name for it—what we have lost and for what we are seeking—is religion. Our history and national character being what they have been, that is more likely here than in most places. In our earliest history, religion undeniably belonged where, in his Farewell Address, Washington put it; first among America's "Indispensable supports."

Latterly it has been true that, among these indispensables, religion is the one we have been trying hardest to get along without. The results which have accrued to us and our society do not commend the effort. And one day, when honest scholarship returns to style we may expect an examination of the likelihood that this sequence was in considerable measure, a matter of cause and effect.

I do not believe there is any revival of religion in the ordinary sense. But there is a growing curiosity as to whether or not religion may be the answer and an increasing openmindedness toward the possibility that it is.

Church membership in proportion to population, and church attendance are at an all-time high. Religious books, out of all proportion to their numbers and, at times, their worth, are high among the best sellers. Bishop Fulton Sheen goes boldly on TV opposite Milton Berle—to the loss, not to the Bishop, but to the comedian.

Even our "intellectuals"—generally the first to fall for a vogue and the last to recover from it—are taking stock and beginning to come up in a new place. A college professor recently wrote a book, "The Shame and Glory of the Intellectuals," giving far more space to the shame than to the glory. A well-known university professor recently declared; "God give us intelligent men instead of those whose intellectuality has outrun their patriotism." A few months ago a magazine asked 25 prominent writers this question: "Have American intellectuals grown more friendly of late to America?" Although they professed not to like it, the answer of the 25, unanimously, was "Yes."

This accumulating evidence does not prove at all that Americans have found or, even, were very near to finding what they are searching for. I think it does prove that, for the first time in a long time, we are consciously searching.

Nobody knows exactly where we will arrive or whether we will get there in time. But it is at least a small straw in a moderately better wind to know that—in terms of what we live by and for—we, almost desperately, would like to feel we are on the way.

County Approves Purchase Of Duplicating Machine

Purchase of a duplicating machine for about $400 was authorized yesterday by commissioners.

The machine will be used mainly for the permanent record assessment system being set up by John B. Aicher.

The gadget is about the size of a large briefcase or a small suitcase. Any paper fed into its rollers will be duplicated in a few seconds, with the duplicate emerging in the form of a negative.

The negative is then fed into the rollers with still another kind of paper, and a copy of the original document emerges.

The whole process takes a few seconds.

The machine is operated electrically, and the principle is photographic. The specially-coated papers are passed through a developing solution inside the machine which brings out the latent image in the emulsion.

Purpose of buying the machine is to enable Aicher to include in the assessment records one copy of each pertinent deed of Monroe County property.

Aicher estimated there are about 20,000 such deeds—the last deed of record. The copy, on 8.5 by 11 inch paper, will be filed in the permanent system and will be easily available.

1953 Tamiment Award Goes To Carl Sandburg

Carl Sandburg's autobiographical book, "Always The Young Strangers", has been chosen to receive the 1953 Tamiment Institute Book Award.

Announcement of the choice — the fourth award of its kind — was made last night by the institute's board of directors in New York City.

A $500 prize goes with the award. It will be presented at a luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria, New York on Nov. 21.

Previous winners were Rupert Hughes' fictionalized biography of pioneer labor leader Samuel Gempers, "The Giant Awakes"; Ethel Waters' autobiography, "His Eye Is On The Sparrow" and last year's dual award to Whittaker Chambers' "Witness" and Merlo J. Jusey's biography of Justice "Charles Evans Hughes."

The awards are sponsored by the People's Educational Camp Society. The society's resort, Tamiment, is located in the Poconos near Bushkill.

HEADING FOR THE TOP

TAKING PARLOR GAMES out into the open, motorcycle enthusiasts in Gilford, N. H., recently held a roundup in which they played versions of walk the plank, break the balloon and carry water without spilling it while riding around a circular course. Highlight of the roundup was a hill climb in which motorcycle riders raced up an incline of nearly 65 degrees in spots. The hill climb was on the same spot that, in winter, is the scene of the famous Torger Tokle memorial ski jump at Belknap. And, perhaps appropriately enough, all the proceeds from this motorcycle roundup went to a hospital fund.

Passing a metal pole, one of the contestants tries to throw a bicycle tire over a hoop.

Adventists To Give To Radio Fund

A special offering to help sponsor Christian broadcasting in 52 languages through the facilities of more than 800 radio stations will be taken at the Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventist Church, N. Second St., Saturday morning, Pastor Adams announced yesterday.

The program, known as the "Voice of Prophecy," originates in Los Angeles, Calif., and is heard weekly on two networks in this country in addition to several hundred foreign stations. The English speaker is H. M. S. Richards, Glendale, Calif., program director.

Pastor Adams said the program offers a free home-study Bible course in many languages. Nearly 400,000 persons have graduated from the course, he said

In addition to the international broadcast of the "Voice of Prophecy," the world-wide organization of Seventh-day Adventists sponsors a coast-to-coast telecast, "Faith For Today," now seen on more than 50 stations.

Adventists also operate an extensive system of educational, medical, and publishing institutions around the world and extends into practically every nation in the world.

Last year the denomination spent more on foreign missions than did any other Prostestant denomination and sent nearly as many overseas missionaries abroad as did any other regularly-organized missionary society.

Each year the church conducts its annual missions appeal program for the public but the bulk of the missions expenses comes from the membership of the organization.

THIS IS ARTIST Karl Leydenfrost's conception of the roller-coaster sequence from "This Is Cinerama". The firm, which gives the "illusion of depth", opened this week at Boyd Theater, Philadelphia. The Boyd is the only theater between New York and Washington which will show Cinerama.

Cinerama Improvement Over Present Movies But It Should Also Have Depth Of Meaning

By Leonard Randolph

One of the movies' newest weapons in the war against that dread disease "TV" was unveiled at the Boyd theater, Philadelphia, this week.

Like most wonder drugs the newest form of motion on celluloid has a flashy, if not complicated, name.

It's called "Cinerama" and it's been enormously successful in New York, Detroit, Chicago and several other cities in which it has been released.

Cinerama differs from normal movies—the kind you see on local screens—in this way:

Ordinary "two-dimensional" movies are shot with one camera. Because they lack an acute sense of "depth", these movies are now being referred to as "flat."

Cinerama is photographed with three cameras, each shooting the scene from a slightly different angle. Sound is recorded "sterophonically" to give the illusion that it is coming from the same direction as the object moves on the screen.

In projection, Cinerama's three strips of film are thrown (in greatly magnified proportions) onto three separate surfaces replacing the customary one-sheet screen.

The Cinerama screen is not "curved" as are Cinema Scope or wide-angle screens. Instead of a solid piece of material, the Cinerama screen consists of hundreds of vertical strips, resembling venetian blinds. The right and left sections are set at angles to the center.

Unlike the so-called "3-D" movies, Cinerama requires no glasses for viewing. You sit in your seat, look at the screen and get an illusion of depth simply because you are seeing "more of the view" out of the corner of each eye.

Cinerama is the brain child of an inventive genius named Fred Waller. In modified form it was used in air force training films during World War Two.

In its present display—called "This Is Cinerama" for purposes of exploitation and drama — the process is effective once in a while, routine at other times and quite occasionally a bore.

"This Is Cinerama" opens with a lengthy spiel by travelog-artist Lowell Thomas, who owns a slice of the corporation. Thomas explains the caveman's technique of showing motion—a drawing of an animal with eight legs.

Now, says Thomas in his final pitch, something new has been added. He means Cinerama, of course.

The roadshow exhibition of the new process then opens. With dimensions six times as wide and twice as tall, the projectors throw a series of scene illustrating the uses to which Cinerama may be put.

Judging by the current show, those uses are highly limited.

First Cinerama takes its audience on a roller-coaster ride. This opening sequence is effective but not sensational. There is a feeling of added depth and of more audience participation, but that's about all.

From here Cinerama cameras focus on an overlong trip on a gondola through a Venetian canal; a static, emotionally unmoving, mediocre ballet performance of the march scene from Verdi's "Aida" and a photographically ineffectual episode showing a church choir (from Long Island) singing.

During the second half of the program Cinerama turns its attention to Florida's "Cypress Gardens" and to the broad horizons of America itself.

In its pictorial tour through the swamps of Cypress, the medium again illustrates how easy it is to overdo a gimmick. With the voice of Thomas constantly inserting coy comments and plugs for the owner of the joint, Cinerama's view of a pictorially enchanting place becomes lackluster and depressingly overlarge.

It is in its final sequence that "This Is Cinerama", begins to give a hint of its possible place in the scheme of things to come.

On an aerial jaunt from New York City to Pittsburgh's "Triangle," Gary's feed mills, Chicago's lake shore and the Midwest's wheat fields, Cinerama puts a new horizon on the field of the travelogue.

Its most effective scene, photographically, is a brilliant shot showing the runway of Kansas City airport during the landing of a plane. Cinerama's cameras were trained on the runway from the nose of the plane.

It is very true that the Cinerama screen shows "more" of the scene being shot. But most of the scenes used in "This Is Cinerama" were not exciting ones. More than this, they lend themselves hardly at all to the motion picture medium.

In both sight and sound, Cinerama is the biggest of the "big" things promised by Hollywood and other film producers to the nation's aching movie exhibitors whose box - office take has been sinking.

Whatever the outcome of the television-movie debate may be, Cinerama does not, at present, provide the answer to dwindling theater audiences. It is a costly, complicated system requiring special knowledge and a specialized audience. It has a future, but it will probably not rest in the depiction of movies as we have known them during the past few years.

Experts, taking note of the size of Cinerama's image, have promised us that, if the process is used for "story" movies, there will be no "close-ups" crowding the screen.

This should come as a relief to moviegoers who find the idea of sitting in a theater surrounded on all three sides by huge hunks of Marlon Brando or Charles Laughton an unnerving one, indeed.

Cinerama—like "Natural Vision" and the "panoramic screen" processes—seems to have a misconception of the real meaning of "depth".

Depth in a movie is basically the same as it is in a book or a television program or an ordinary event in human life.

If the story related or the event shown is worth telling or re-telling then the "depth" will be there.

Real depth comes from the meaning of the film. If it has no meaning and no emotional impact, the "illusion of depth", which comes from filling the eye physically, will be a basically worthless thing.

Allies Base Decision On EDC Gains

By J. M. Roberts Jr.
Associated Press News Analyst

The Anglo-American decision to turn the city of Trieste back to Italy may have some effect on Italian acceptance of the European defense program, but certainly does not ease the bitterness of the territorial dispute with Yugoslavia.

Yugoslav reaction has been prompt and clear.

"The Yugoslav government," Tito said, "is not ready to agree with this decision and will take all measures at its disposal under the United Nations charter."

He obviously feels that the move will give Italy a vastly strengthened bargaining position with regard to the whole territory.

His first statement seems to take little cognizance of the removal of the 7,000 British and American troops as a gesture of Angle-American trust attesting to better relations between Belgrade and the West as a whole.

And there is as yet no assurance—at least no public assurance—that Italy will accept the new status as the "settlement" she said she must have before she can join the European Defense Community.

Insofar as the civil status of the city itself is concerned, the Anglo-American decision merely serves to formalize what has been a de facto situation since 1948. Trieste has been governed, and its economy oriented, almost as though it were a part of Italy. Its police force, organized like a light army, is manned almost entirely by Italians.

Despite a considerable Slovene population, there has never been any question about the Italian nature of Trieste. There is a considerable ethnic question in Zone B, occupied by Yugoslavia. Some of the small cities there are likewise predominantly Italian.

It has never been clear whether Italy would ever agree to give up these towns, or whether Tito would ever give up on the big port. On the latter point observers have thought that it should be possible to work out Yugoslav access to the port, even though it is controlled by Italy, on a basis of profit to both countries.

The Anglo-American decision is a considerable sacrifice of military position both in the Mediterranean and with relation to Austria and the Balkans.

For years now the occupation troops and the constant presence of American warships at the head of the Adriatic have served as a potent reminder of Allied interest in the whole area, and as a potential base for military operations in southeastern Europe should the need arise.

The chief Allied hope now is that the political gains, especially in the attitude of the Italian parliament toward EDC, will offset this sacrifice.

Joint Chiefs Divided On Arms Budget

By Robert S. Allen

Washington — The new Joint Chiefs of Staff are still split on next year's military budget.

They are lined up two to one on this crucial issue, as follows:

For $36,700,000,000 — Gen. Nathan Twining, Air chief of staff.

Both figures exceed the $34,372,000,000 voted by Congress for the military services this fiscal year.

The embattled Joint Chiefs submitted their two-to-one report to Defense Secretary Charles Wilson several days ago. They have been working on the new budget for weeks, but the best they could do was to agree to disagree.

Wilson shot back their report with a specific injunction that they resume deliberations until they reach a unanimous agreement.

The proposed budget submitted to Wilson under the two-to-one split allocated funds as follows:

Army, $13,000,000,000; Air Force, $11,700,000,000; Navy, $9,800,000,000; Stockpiling, etc., $700,000,000.

The Air Force is insisting on $13,000,000,000,000 on the ground that is the minimum needed to continue the authorized program of developing 143 wings.

Under the current budget, Congress gave the Army $12,900,000,000, the Air Force $11,400,000,000, the Navy $9,400,000,000, and $759,550,000 for stockpiling and tooling requirements.

Highly significant regarding the unpublished report is the fact that the Joint Chiefs completely bypass in the next fiscal year. As far as they are concerned, they are completely ignoring budget cutting.

Pinola Reinstates 15 Candidates

Wilkes-Barre, (AP)—Luzerne County Judge Pinola has reinstated 15 Democratic candidates whose names were ordered withheld from the Nov. 3 ballot because they had failed to file loyalty oaths.

The action paved the way for a similar ruling in connection with three Republicans.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figurs give you.

C. L. Hester Dies; Former Assemblyman

Portland— Christian L. Hester, 85, former chief burgess who also served one term as a Democratic assemblyman from Northampton County, died Wednesday night at his home here.

Mr. Hester, one of the oldest residents of Portland, had been in failing health for several years.

He served two terms as chief burgess, and also was elected five times to Portland Borough Council before being elected to the State House of Representatives in 1932.

Born at Watsontown, Northumberland County, on April 4, 1868, Mr. Hester was a son of the late Daniel and Sophia Hester. He moved to Portland in 1903 to take a position as superintendent of the old Luther Keller Slate Co.

He was associated with that firm in the same capacity until it went out of business in 1930.

He was a member of Portland Presbyterian Church; Portland Lodge 311, F&AM; Lehigh Consistory, Allentown; Irem Temple of the Mystic Shrine, Wilkes-Barre; the IOOF lodge at Watsontown, and the Portland Board of Trade. He was an honorary member of the Portland Fire Co.

Surviving are his widow, the former Sue B. Miller; a sister, Mrs. Clarence Royer, of McEwensville; a brother, Curtis, of Watsontown; a stepbrother, Elmer Hoffman, also of Watsontown, and one grandson.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Horton funeral home, Johnsonville. Rev. David R. Edwards, pastor of Portland Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Elias Jones, pastor of Portland Baptist Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Riverview Cemetery, Portland.

'Your Health'

From The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania and the Monroe County Medical Society

The high state of development of preventive medicine is probably best illustrated in the records of the United States Army.

Many of these served in the most unhealthful regions of the world.

In spite of this, the disease rate in World War II was lower than in any former military conflict in history.

World War II was the first war in history not followed by major epidemic diseases.

The disease rate was only 0.6 per 1,000 per year as compared with 16 per 1,000 per year in World War I and 25 per 1,000 per year in the Spanish-merican War.

In fact, World War II was the first major conflict in which more military personnel died from direct enemy action than from disease.

In the Spanish-American War, 5 military personnel died from disease to every 1 injured by enemy action.

In World War I, the ratio was reduced to slightly more than 1 fatality from disease to 1 resulting from enemy action.

In World War II, death due to battle exceeded death caused by disease by a ratio of 17 to 1.

The United States Army conducted a massive mosquito control campaign in all military installations in the United States and in many overseas areas.

The low disease rate in American troops resulting from the control program proved the effectiveness of such measures.

A generation ago, malaria, particularly in the South, was a major cause of chronic disability and economic loss.

During 1950 there were only about 20 cases of malaria reported as contracted in all of the United States, according to estimate.

Preventive measures pay large dividends.

Special Favorite of the Ladies!

When a Cadillac comes into the service of a family that has never owned one before, it is—quite naturally—a source of great pride and happiness to the entire family group.

But we have noticed, through the years, that the car is a very special favorite with the ladies. For, most assuredly, a Cadillac does some very wonderful and extraordinary things for a lady.

First of all, she looks her loveliest when she is seated behind its wheel. Every time she takes to the highway, she finds herself the focal point in a perfectly gorgeous picture.

And she feels just as wonderful as she looks.

The car's deep, luxurious cushions cradle her in magnificent comfort throughout the longest journey. The great responsiveness of the quiet, powerful engine gives her a marvelous sense of command. The car steers and brakes and drives with such miraculous ease that she actually rests and relaxes as she rides.

Of course, there are a great many other satisfactions which a lady finds in a new Cadillac car.

There is, for instance, her delight at seeing her family surrounded with every comfort and safeguard known to the science of motor car design. And there is the deep and rewarding sense of fulfillment which comes with ownership of such a prized and sought-after possession. Even parked in her driveway, the car is a tribute to her good taste and judgment . . . and a wonderful complement to the beauty and graciousness of her home.

To any gentleman reading this advertisement—we would like to make a suggestion:

Some day soon—when the sky is bright and the time is right—ask your lady if she wouldn't like to take a ride in a 1953 Cadillac.

We think we know what the answer will be—and we'll be happy to see you, indeed.
